Ald. Clark presented the following communication:

PATRIOTIC COMMUNITY COUNCIL,
CHICAGO, January 13, 1919.

To the City Council, Council Chamber, Chicago, Illinois:

The Patriotic Community Council, representing the Community Patriotic Organizations in Chicago, asks that you officially recognize the fourth Thursday of each month as "Welcome Home Day" for returned soldiers and sailors. This has nothing to do with public welcomes, for regiments or divisions such as given the Blackhawks to-day, nor is it intended to interfere in any way with such welcome receptions, but it is intended to give the communities an opportunity to compile a list of returned soldiers and sailors for the current month and hold a public reception with a program, that evening, to be held in the largest hall in each community.

This gives each community an opportunity to hold a Welcome Home Day for their own boys, with their parents, sisters and brothers, wives or sweethearts in attendance.

We suggest that on such days all business houses and homes decorate and returned soldiers and sailors be shown every courtesy possible throughout the city. It is planned to have the Red Cross, Y. M. C. A., Jewish Welfare Association, Knights of Columbus, War Camp Community Service and like organizations keep "open house" in the loop district that day for the benefit of all soldiers and sailors who may wish to visit them.

Our organizations were active in giving our boys a proper "send-off" when they left for camp and now they wish to be given an opportunity to extend them a proper "welcome home." Plans have been worked out for securing the names and addresses of all returned boys each month and a tentative program drawn up, a copy of which is attached.

This plan has been heartily endorsed by all patriotic and public welfare organizations and a petition signed by them placed in the Mayor's hands in which he is also asked to name a committee of one hundred to officially take charge of the arrangements. Our organizations have their arrangements made and wish to hold the first "Welcome Home Day" Thursday, January 23rd, 1919.

Hoping you will give this immediate consideration and assuring you of every assistance this organization can give to make such a day a credit to the City of Chicago, we are

Faithfully yours,

PATRIOTIC COMMUNITY COUNCIL,

(Signed) Chas. W. Folds, Chairman,
L. A. Calvin, Secretary.

DEPARTMENT OF LAW.

Licensing of Retail and Wholesale Junk Dealers: in the Matter of the Enforcement of the Ordinance of July 8, 1918.

The Clerk presented the following communication submitted by the Corporation Counsel, which was referred to the Committee on License:

DEPARTMENT OF LAW,
CHICAGO, January 20, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—At the meeting held on January 13, 1919, your Honorable Body passed the following order:

"Ordered, That the Corporation Counsel be and he is hereby directed to report to this Council at its next regular meeting his reasons for requesting the Department of Police not to take action in the matter of the enforcement of the ordinance passed by the City Council July 8, 1918, licensing and regulating retail and wholesale junk shops."

In compliance with the above order, I respectfully beg leave to inform your Honorable Body that the ordinance in question provided for a license fee of $1,000.00 on wholesale junk dealers, payable annually. The ordinance also provided a license fee of $100.00 on retail junk dealers, payable semi-annually on the first day of July and the first day of January of every year. This ordinance did not pass your Honorable Body until July 8, 1918, and was not published until July 22, 1918, and did not become a law until the 2nd day of August, 1918.

Section 1516 of the general ordinances of the City provides that no license shall be granted for a less period nor for a longer period than one year, except where otherwise specifically provided, and every license shall expire on the 31st day of December following its issuance, except where otherwise specifically provided. The ordinance passed by your Honorable Body on July 8th, regulating the licensing of wholesale and retail junk dealers made no provision for a license period for wholesale junk dealers, and the provision of the general ordinances controls and governs the issuance of wholesale junk licenses, and the city had no power to enforce that provision of the ordinance until after the 1st day of January, 1919.

In regard to retail junk dealers, the ordinance provided an annual license fee of $100.00 payable semi-annually on the first day of July and the 1st day of January of each year, and as the ordinance did not become a law until August 2, 1918, retail junk dealers could not be compelled to comply with its provisions until the arrival of a day fixed in the ordinance for a license period to commence after its passage, which was January 1, 1919.

In view of the above state of facts, this department advised the General Superintendent of Police last September that any attempt upon the part of the city to enforce the provisions of this ordinance prior to January 1, 1919, would be futile.

In conclusion, we desire to report to your Honorable Body that since January 1, 1919, this department has commenced suit against wholesale junk dealers for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of the said ordinance.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) SAMUEL A. ETTELSON,
Corporation Counsel.

Proposed Railroad Building Operations.

The Clerk presented the following communication submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works, which was ordered published and placed on file:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
BUREAU OF ENGINEERING,
CHICAGO, January 17, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and Aldermen in the City Council Assembled:

GENTLEMEN—In accordance with Council order of January 13th, I herewith submit report on the proposed building operations of the various railroads in the City, which come under the supervision of the Bureau of Engineering, Department of Public Works. In compliance with Council order of December 16, 1918, I have already submitted to the Committee on Railway Terminals a detailed report of the work still to be done under the Union Station ordinances, and the proposed program for 1919. Briefly, this program embraces the street, viaduct and building work between Harrison and 12th streets. Work in this district was under way when construction was suspended on account of the war. Because of the present interference to street traffic, this is the logical point to resume operations.

The Union Station Company is ready to start work in this district as soon as the necessary authority is granted. This program is submitted as the proper plan for resumption of work and the remaining construction will be started in its logical sequence. A conference between the engineering departments of the Union Station Company and the City has been set for Tuesday, January 21st. At that time a complete work schedule will be agreed upon.

Following is the tentative program south of Van Buren street, which was submitted to the Regional Director of Railroads on November 25, 1918:

1. Depression of tracks to ordinance grade between Van Buren and 12th streets. Rearrangement of tracks to permit construction of viaduct foundations.

2. Construction of Harrison street viaduct.

3. Construction of east half of C. B. & Q. R. R. freight house between Harrison and Polk streets.

4. Construction of Polk street viaduct.

5. Construction of Canal street viaduct between Polk and Taylor streets.

6. Construction of Taylor street viaduct.

7. Construction of Canal street viaduct between Harrison and Polk streets.

8. Construction of filled elevation on Canal street between Taylor and 12th streets.

9. Construction of west half of C. B. & Q. R. R. freight house between Harrison and Polk streets.

10. Construction of south half of West 12th street viaduct.

Item 1 is the key to the entire situation.

Items 2, 3 and 4 should be started at once and carried on simultaneously.

Items 5 and 6 should be carried on simultaneously.

Items 7 and 9 cannot be done until items 2, 3 and 4 are practically completed, as the present freight house (Item 9) with present street level cannot be thrown out of service until new freight house (Item 3) is in use.

Item 8 can be done at the same time as Items 5 and 6 or later.

Item 10 should be started as quickly as possible.

As regards 12th street viaduct east of the river, the Department of Public Works has prepared plans and is ready to start work on the caissons for this viaduct. War conditions, however, have raised the City's portion of the cost of this work from $166,000.00 to approximately $1,240,000.00, and as this amount must be charged to the Corporate Fund it is evident that work cannot be started until the 1919 budget is passed by the City Council.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) CHARLES R. FRANCIS,
Commissioner of Public Works.

(Signed) JOHN ERICSON,
City Engineer.

Resolved, That in the opinion of the Senate, Armenia (including the six vilayets of Turkish Armenia and Cilicia, Russian Armenia, and the northern part of the Province of Azerbaijan, Persian Armenia), should be independent, and that it is the hope of the Senate that the peace conference will make arrangements for helping Armenia to establish an independent republic. It is also the opinion of the Senate that provision should be made for the Syrians and other Christian populations of Asia Minor, and that those portions of Asia Minor where the Greeks are predominant, should be placed under the control of the Government of Greece.

CITY CLERK.

The Sanitary District of Chicago: Water Tunnel and Return Pipe.

The Clerk presented the following communication, which was, together with the ordinance transmitted therewith, referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys:

THE SANITARY DISTRICT OF CHICAGO,
CHICAGO, January 21, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois:

GENTLEMEN—On January 25, 1904, the City Council of the City of Chicago passed an ordinance granting The Sanitary District of Chicago permission and authority to construct and maintain in 39th street between Wabash avenue and State street a five-foot water tunnel and a three-foot return pipe connecting the power house of the South Side Elevated Railroad Company and the 39th street conduit for the purpose of supplying the power house of said railroad company with water and returning the same after being used for cooling and condensing purposes.

By the terms of Section 2 of said ordinance the period during which said water tunnel and return pipe could be maintained and used was limited to ten years. On March 29, 1904, Section 2 of said ordinance was amended so that the period of the grant was made fifteen years instead of ten years. This grant will expire on January 25, 1919.

The Sanitary District of Chicago hereby requests that an ordinance be passed by your Honorable Body to extend the period of time during which said water tunnel and return pipe may be maintained and used as constructed for an additional period of fifteen years from January 25, 1919.

The Sanitary District herewith transmits a tentative form of ordinance to accomplish the purpose above specified, and requests that the same may be duly considered, and if satisfactory passed by your Honorable Body.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) C. ARCH WILLIAMS,
Attorney.

The Chicago Association of Commerce: Conference on the Question of Unemployment.

The Clerk presented the following communication:

JANUARY 25, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—The reabsorption into normal industry of the returning soldiers and sailors, as well as war workers in munition plants, is now going on. To that subject The Chicago Association of Commerce has devoted much study, and we are certain that it has far greater importance than now appears plainly upon the surface.

The readjustment has difficult phases, some of which directly and substantially interest and affect a large percentage of Chicago's population. One of these features is adequate employment.

Public officials can aid materially in solving that problem by pressing public improvements.

The Association respectfully requests the opportunity of presenting to you some information and views on the urgent need of providing sufficient employment, and the advisability of doing so within a reasonably short time. We therefore respectfully request that a special meeting of the City Council of Chicago be called for Wednesday, January 29, 1919, at such hour as may be convenient to the Council, preferably in the afternoon, in order that representatives of the Association may have the opportunity to appear and present this question to the Council.

Ordinarily we would not ask anything outside your regular meeting, but the importance of this subject merits unusual consideration.

Yours very truly,

THE CHICAGO ASSOCIATION OF COMMERCE,

Harry H. Merrick, President.
Louis T. Jamme, Vice-Pres. Civic Ind. Div.

Ald. Maypole moved that it be the sense of the Council that at the conclusion of the day's business a recess be taken until 2 o'clock p. m. on Wednesday, January 29, 1919, for the purpose of giving The Chicago Association of Commerce the opportunity requested in the foregoing communication.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Cullerton moved that further consideration of said communication be temporarily deferred.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH.

Gas Fumes in "Lawndale".

The Clerk presented the following report, submitted by the Commissioner of Health, which was ordered published and referred to the Committee on Public Health:

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH,
JANUARY 25, 1919.

The Honorable Mayor and Council, City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—Respecting your instructions to make an investigation of the odor nuisance in the Lawndale district, occurring on the 18th and 19th inst., I respectfully submit the following report:

Extent of area affected:

The nuisance complained of, so far as I have been able to learn, was a marked one over the area extending from Western avenue to the city limits and between 18th street on the north and the Ogden ditch on the south. This area includes about six square miles. About two-thirds of this district is improved with dwellings, especially the north end.

Time of occurrence:

From the evidence given by those who experienced the odors, it seems to have prevailed from about the early evening of Saturday, the 18th, perhaps from 7 o'clock, through the night, at least with considerable severity until 2 o'clock in the morning. The evidence of the prevalence of the odors indicates that it came with a southwest wind and varied in intensity from time to time and in various locations, probably as the wind varied. There is some evidence of occasional outbursts of odor at and after daylight on Sunday morning.

Characteristics of the nuisance:

The nuisance consisted in a widely distributed pungent fume or odor described by pretty nearly every observer as like the odor of illuminating gas. It appears, however, to have possessed pungent qualities so as to be irritating to the nose and throat and exceedingly disagreeable. It is also described by many witnesses as possessing nauseating qualities so that they were made sick at the stomach, and in a few instances at least persons were caused to vomit. The disagreeable effects were first noticed by people on the street, but on going into the houses they found the same conditions prevalent within the building. In many cases, the children were taken to the cellars, where there seemed to be much less prevalence of the objectionable odors. Canary birds were affected and in some instances killed, and chickens were also affected by the odors and some are said to have died.

Gas Company's plant:

As the nuisance seemed to be identified as coming from illuminating gas and no leaks were found in the neighborhood, very little special concentration of the nuisance having occurred, attention was directed to the Gas Company's plant just outside the city limits in Cicero, the location being just east of Cicero avenue and about 38th street south.

This plant was visited by inspectors of the Sanitary Bureau, and on the morning of the 23rd by Chief Sanitary Inspector Ball in company with Superintendent Lovell of the Peoples Gas Co. This installation is known as the light oil plant of the Gas Company and is used in the purification of oils collected in the process of manufacture, being substantially the same oils as were formerly collected from condensation in the mains and called drip oil. The modern process of production of gas allows the condensation and collection of these oils at the production plants. The oil is brought in tank cars, from them is pumped into covered storage tanks, thence into a distillation building where in a number of small tanks the lighter oils are distilled off. These oils may be separated according to their distillation point, but at present the manufacture of motor oil does not require much separation of the products. The resulting light distillates are still discolored and the product is then treated with sulphuric acid to remove this discoloration and produce a transparent white oil. This process is carried on in a smaller building containing three tanks. The tanks are arranged with hopper bottoms, into which are precipitated the heavy oils as the result of this treatment. This oil is drawn off from the bottom of the tanks until the lighter oil shows in the stream, when the process is discontinued. The material remaining in the tanks is then treated with a weak solution of caustic soda to render it neutral or alkaline in character, and the ordinary result is a separation by gravity of the caustic water in the bottom of the tank from the oil which collects at the top. This caustic water is then drawn off to an outside storage tank of 5,000 gallons capacity, where the pressure is reduced to atmospheric pressure, previous operations all being performed under somewhat increased pressure.

This storage tank is connected to a tile pipe line discharging into an open concrete sump of about twice the capacity of the tank. It is said that the tank is drawn off into this sump about once in a week or ten days, and the material is discharged less frequently from the concrete sump into the continuation of the pipe line flowing into the Ogden ditch. The caustic water still carries on its top some of the oily deposit and therefore flows out from the concrete sump under baffle plates, most of the oil being collected in this manner, and the residue flowing into the Ogden ditch is said ordinarily to consist of caustic water only.

The Gas Company officials explained that since the cold weather came on, difficulty has been experienced with the separation of the water and oils in the iron sedimentation tank and that the tank had not been discharged for a longer period than usual through the sump into the stream.

The Gas Company officials also state that at the close of work on Friday evening, the 17th, about 5:30 o'clock or so, one of their employes opened the outlet valve from the iron tank to its full capacity, so that the contents of this tank were carried into the concrete chamber and thence into the Ogden ditch. How long this process continued after the tank was emptied seems to be a matter of doubt.

I am advised that the surface of the sluggish stream, about 50 feet in width at this point, was covered with ice and that this material was discharged below the icy surface. At a later hour on Friday night or during Saturday morning, this ice broke up owing to the continued thaw, and flowed down the stream to the eastward, carrying with it the contents of the tank and such other material as may have been allowed to flow out from the plant. About 600 feet from the point where it entered the stream is found the outlet of a large sewer, the temperature of which is much warmer than that of the stream.

The Gas Company officials state that the oily contents of the sedimentation tank did not separate, allowing the water to flow out and the lighter oil to follow, but that through some process of mixing the stream flowed out as an emulsion of oil and water and in such form that when cooled in the icy waters of the ditch it still did not allow the gas to be given off to any marked extent. This is supported by the personal observation of Chief Inspector Ball as late as Thursday morning. Globules of gassy material rose to the surface, spreading over it as oil, which he personally observed. It is my opinion that the nuisance was caused by the liberation of gas from this oil which was probably hastened by change of temperature experienced when this discharge met the warmer waters of the sewer fouled stream.

We cannot, however, fail to escape the conclusion that after the caustic water and oils escaped from the tank, they were followed, by reason of some open valve or connection, by some considerable quantity at least of lighter oils of more volatile character which contaminated the atmosphere and caused the complaints referred to above.

The opinion seems to be justified that the material lost was of considerable value to the Gas Company and would not be wantonly discharged or wasted by them. The precautions which they have taken to prevent a recurrence of the situation are as follows:

A blind washer has been placed on the outlet valve of this tank, which must be removed before the tank is discharged in the future. The outlet of the concrete sump, formerly the open end of the 24-inch tile pipe, has now been closed and a 6-inch valve installed at this location. A third means of preventing discharge into the stream was in process of construction in the form of a large gate valve in the tile drain outlet. These precautions will interpose two gate valves between the sedimentation tank and the stream.

Respectfully,

(Signed) JOHN DILL ROBERTSON,
Commissioner of Health.

CHICAGO, December 27, 1918.

Hon. William Hale Thompson, Mayor, Hon. Eugene R. Pike, City Comptroller, Hon. Clayton F. Smith, City Treasurer, City of Chicago—Ex-officio Trustees of the Lambert Tree Medal Fund.

GENTLEMEN—The Board of Award, acting under Section 1 of Rule 37 of the rules and regulations of the Fire Department, consisting of the Fire Marshal and Chief of Brigade, the First Assistant Fire Marshal, and the members of the Civil Service Commission, hereby submits the following report on the cases considered for awards of merit for acts of bravery performed by members of the Fire Department in the saving of life and property during the year 1917, in pursuance of Section 1933 of the Revised Municipal Code of 1911, together with a summary of acts of bravery performed and the corroboration thereof of such witnesses as were available.

The case of Michael J. Corrigan, Chief of the 25th Battalion, in the unanimous opinion of the Board, merits the highest consideration, and we recommend him first for Honorable Mention and the award of the Lambert Tree Medal. Mr. Corrigan displayed great bravery at the Auditorium Theater on the evening of November 16, 1917. While standing on stairway leading to main aisle he saw a flash and a flame leap up from between the seats of said aisle, about twenty feet from where he was standing, and calling to audience to keep their seats, he made his way to where flame was coming from, and found a few people trying to kick a bomb into the aisle, without success. He, getting down on his hands and knees, reached under the seats and pulled the bomb out, throwing his coat over it and carrying same out into Congress street. He then returned to the theater and was requested by the management to go on the stage and explain to the audience that everything was all right, which he did, and by so doing averted what might have been a serious calamity.

The following are recommended for Honorable Mention:

Harry M. Nilson, Pipeman, Engine Co. No. 15 and David Hackett, Pipeman Squad No. 2, for bravery displayed in rescuing three men who were overcome by smoke and badly burned, from the fourth floor of a burning building at 2024 S. Racine avenue, by means of fire escape, all other means of escape being cut off, at 4:26 p. m., October 29, 1917.

CHICAGO, December 27, 1918.

Hon. William Hale Thompson, Mayor, Hon. Eugene R. Pike, City Comptroller, Hon. Clayton F. Smith, City Treasurer, City of Chicago.—Ex-officio Trustees of the Carter H. Harrison Medal Fund.

GENTLEMEN—The Board of Award, acting under Section 5 of Rule 31, of the rules and regulations of the Department of Police, consisting of the General Superintendent of Police, First Deputy Superintendent of Police, and the members of the Civil Service Commission, hereby submit the following report on the cases considered for awards of merit for acts of bravery performed by members of the Police Department in the saving of life and property during the year 1917, in pursuance with Section 1933 of the Revised Municipal Code of 1911, together with a summary of acts of bravery performed and the corroboration thereof of such witnesses as were available.

The case of Patrolman Thomas J. Dohney of the 17th Precinct, in the unanimous opinion of the Board, merits the highest consideration, and we recommend him first for honorable mention and the award of the Carter H. Harrison Medal.

At 12:30 p. m., February 8, 1917, a telephone message was received at the 17th precinct from a woman in the vicinity of 61st street and Washtenaw avenue saying that four men were in the neighborhood, acting suspiciously. Patrolman Dohney, on post duty, was reporting from a patrol box at the time and was informed by the operator of the complaint. Officer Dohney made haste to the corner mentioned and went through the alleys nearby looking for the men. He noticed the basement window at 6125 Washtenaw avenue was broken, and later saw four men leave the front entrance and hurry away. The officer drew his revolver, ran after the men and commanded them to halt. They turned around but he had them covered with his revolver and forced them to drop three revolvers in the snow, a 45-caliber Colt, a 32-magazine and a 22-target pistol. The officer held all four until the 17th precinct wagon arrived. At the station the prisoners confessed to four burglaries, and gave the names of Charles J. Kirby, Reuben Gustafson, Roy Norris and Alfred Olsson, and their ages as 18 years. The proceeds of the burglaries were found in their possession, consisting of jewelry valued at $150. On February 10 they were arraigned before Judge Dolan in the Boys' Court and Olsson, Gustafson and Kirby were held to the Grand Jury in $3,000 each and Norris in $1,000. The activity, courage, intelligence and bravery exercised in this case merits the highest commendation.

The following are recommended for honorable mention:

Patrolman William C. Doornbos, 28th Precinct, for act of bravery performed in arresting two desperate criminals who gave the names of Frank Howard and Joseph Bender, while attempting to rob, at the point of a gun, Charles M. Hood at the Dover Hotel, 1108 N. Clark street, at 1 a. m., January 6, 1917. After a terrific struggle, at great personal risk, he disarmed the desperados, taking two revolvers from one of them, and arrested the robbers.

Charles M. Hood, 1108 N. Clark street and Mr. Morris, proprietor of the Dover Hotel, appeared on behalf of Patrolman Doornbos in corroboration of his statements.

Patrolman John J. Smith, 25th Precinct, for act of bravery performed May 25, 1917, at 12:20 o'clock a. m., while on post duty in the vicinity of Robey street and Webster avenue., in the arrest of a criminal giving his name as Joe Miller. Miller and another burglar entered the saloon of John Tomasik, 2159 N. Robey street and aroused the officer's suspicion. The men left the saloon, and the officer followed. The officer suddenly slipped up to them and grappled with one. Both suspects drew their revolvers. While Officer Smith shot at the fleeing robber the other robber shot at Officer Smith, the bullet passing under his left arm. Officer Smith showed great bravery in disarming his prisoner, who drew no less than three guns. He also took a bottle of nitroglycerin from the prisoner's vest pocket. Later the prisoner was identified as a paroled convict. Officer Smith was promoted to temporary detective sergeant.

Also for bravery displayed October 2, 1917, at 5:50 p. m., in arresting, with Detective Sergeant Alcock, five men whom they found in the saloon of Henry Schroder, 2801 Fullerton avenue, among whom was Horace Simmons, alias "Hi Hi." The men attempted to flee in a machine but the officers covered them and had them drive to the station. The men, except the chauffeur, who was hired, all had prison records.

Patrolman Joseph Lawlor, 1st Precinct, for bravery displayed in a battle with James R. Ellis, 318 Federal street, Omaha, while he was attempting to kill the proprietor of the Loyal Hotel, 214 S. Clark street, December 15, 1917, at about 1:45 a. m. Lawlor ran to the hotel and the criminal fired four shots at the officer, none of which took effect. Officer Lawlor fired two shots, which killed the desperado instantly. His story was corroborated by William Weinstein, 214 S. Clark street, proprietor of the hotel, and Adolph Herman, deputy coroner of Cook County.

Detective Sergeant Paul W. Peterson, 24th Precinct, for bravery displayed in the arrest of Edward Wagner, a notorious gunman and ex-convict on parole, wanted for a number of saloon robberies, who was concealed in a house at 1238 W. Chicago avenue. Sergeant Peterson followed Wagner to the house, but said Wagner jumped through a second story window. The officer finally found Wagner hidden under a house and captured him by crawling under and carrying him out, the prisoner's foot being fractured.

Detective Sergeant William J. Boyd, 27th Precinct, for bravery shown in capturing a criminal who gave his name as Kenneth Conway, June 2, 1917, at about 1:30 a. m., near La Salle and Elm streets. He saw a man running south on La Salle street and ordered him to halt. The man fired a shot at the sergeant. The sergeant returned the fire and mortally wounded him. This burglar, in company with two others, had held up John Gaffney in his saloon at 2658 W. Van Buren street and also Joseph Trucco, 3934 W. Division street in his saloon.

Also for alertness, intelligence and prompt action displayed by him in the apprehension of Ira C. Walker, an ex-convict, who, on December 26, 1917, held up and robbed Phillip Hutherd, proprietor of a meat market at 1701 N. Keystone avenue.

Patrolman James B. Scanlan, 12th Precinct, for assisting in the apprehension of William Taylor, a desperate burglar and ex-convict, on February 27, 1917, at about 11:30 p. m., near 6003 Ellis avenue. Taylor had concealed himself somewhere in the vicinity. The officers surrounded the block and made a search. Officer Scanlan heard a faint noise in the rear of 6037 Ellis avenue. It was very dark. At the moment a man spoke, at the same time fired two shots at the officer, at close range. Officer Scanlan returned the fire, and the burglar was finally hit in the left hip by Lieut. Burns, and was overpowered by Officer Scanlan and the Lieutenant. Taylor confessed to having committed sixty burglaries in the 11th and 12th precinct, also Taylor confessed to shooting Russel Bovee, 1641 Michigan avenue on August 4, 1916, on the Wooded Island, in Jackson Park. Officer Scanlan's story was corroborated by Lieutenant Burns.

Lieut. Michael Hughes, Detective Bureau, for bravery displayed in the arrest on July 14, 1917, about 9:30 a. m., at 151 W. 21st street, of John King, alias "Scar Faced" King, alias Frank Murphy, an escaped convict, and Geo. Moran, alias Geo. Miller, wanted for violation of parole. The criminals were in hiding at 151 W. 21st street. Lieut. Hughes surrounded the house with officers and entered the house with Detective Sergeant Wm. L. McCarthy. There they found both criminals hiding. Quick action prevented a battle, as three loaded revolvers were in the room. The robbers had in their possession the proceeds of five robberies. Both were sent to the penitentiary.

Sergeant Martin C. Mulvihill, 28th Precinct, for bravery displayed on July 17, 1917, about 4:30 p. m., at a strike at the firm of Mokrum & Co., at 24 Austin avenue. The strikers gathered around the plant at quitting time for those employed in their places. Fifty employes came out, went to State street and took a south bound car. At Kinzie street fifteen strikers attempted to get on the car, but failed, and followed the car, some in an auto. Near South Water street a fight ensued among the employes and strikers. Sergeant Mulvihill drew his revolver and knocked a man down who appeared to be the leader. With the assistance of other officers seven men were arrested. Sergeant Mulvihill made 147 arrests during July, 1917.

Sidney V. Heddington, 1818 S. Taylor avenue, corroborated the story of the strike of Sergeant Mulvihill.

Sergeant Mulvihill also showed bravery on February 15, 1917, at about 5:10 p. m., in arresting Wm. C. Russell in the act of shooting and killing Henry Collins in front of 19 S. Western avenue. The sergeant saw the shooting from a Western avenue street car and jumped off and grabbed Russell as he was firing the fourth shot.

Charles F. Harm, motorman, 1906 W. 35th street, was present and corroborated the story of Sergeant Mulvihill in the Russell case.

Detective Sergeant Gustave O. R. Melcher, 28th Precinct, for bravery displayed November 29, 1917, at 1:00 a. m., in front of 743 W. North avenue, in arresting Jos. Schragel who was looking for trouble with a certain saloonkeeper. He displayed a revolver. He defied Sergeant Melcher, and the latter drew his revolver, but Schragel opened fire, striking the end of Sergeant Melcher's revolver, and inflicting a flesh wound in his finger, the bullet lodging in the lining of his coat. Sergeant Melcher fired two shots, both taking effect, Schragel dying of his wounds shortly afterward.

Detective Sergeant Wm. T. Burns, 27th Precinct, for bravery and intelligence and prompt action displayed in the apprehension of Ira C. Walker, an ex-convict, who on December 26, 1917, held up and robbed Phillip Hutherd, proprietor of a meat market at 1701 N. Keystone avenue.

Sergeant Michael H. Meehan, 8th Precinct, Patrolman Joseph W. Schaefer, 6th Precinct, and James B. Hoffman, 5th Precinct, for bravery displayed on November 5, 1917, at 3:45 a. m., while at the 5th Precinct, in a battle with a negro by the name of Edward L. Knowles, living at 31st and Vernon avenue, who had held up four people at the point of a revolver at 531 E. 36th street. The officers arrived at the scene with the victims and ordered the robber to hold up his hands. He refused and fired two shots at Officer Meehan, striking him in the chest and right arm. Officers Schaefer and Hoffman fired at Knowles, killing him. Joe H. Eddy, one of the victims of the robber, corroborated this story.

Detective Sergeant Patrick Alcock, 25th Precinct, for bravery displayed on October 2, 1917, at 5:50 p. m., in the arrest of five men including Horace Simmons, alias "Hi Hi." The men were in the saloon of John Schroder, 2801 Fullerton avenue and left by a side door when they saw the officers, and were entering an auto when Sergeants Alcock and John Smith ordered the men to throw up their hands and ordered the auto driven to the station. One prisoner broke away while unloading. Sergeant Alcock commanded him to halt and several shots were exchanged. Sergeant Alcock, assisted by Sergeant Smith, pursued and recaptured the man. Simmons' record disclosed he had served eight years for murder and three of the others had records and had served time.

Patrolman Julius A. Rohrhof, 33rd Precinct, for bravery displayed on June 19, 1917, about 8:25 p. m., in the arrest of John and William Gatlin. Rohrhof responded to an alarm with Sergeant Wm. V. Blaul and Patrolman Wm. J. Burns. They went to 749 Wells street on a report that James Flynn, a pawnbroker at that address, had been shot. Officer Rohrhof searched the neighborhood and ordered a suspicious looking character to surrender at the point of his revolver. The suspect attempted to draw but was prevented by Officer Rohrhof, who disarmed him. He gave his name as William Gatlin, 2119 Cleveland avenue. The officers went to that address and Officer Rohrhof captured John Gatlin as he was making his escape. Wm. Gatlin had served time before and told Rohrhof he was lucky, that but for his alertness he would have killed him. James Flynn, the pawnbroker, corroborated the story of Patrolman Rohrhof.

Detective Sergeants Theodore Smith and John E. Stark, 34th Precinct, for bravery displayed on July 18, 1917, about 1:30 a. m., in the arrest of three holdup men, giving their names as Chester Curtis, Ercile Henry and George Harich, Saratoga Hotel. Near the Loyola station the sergeants noticed an auto. The patrol pulled up alongside and ordered the occupants of the waiting auto to hold up their hands. There were revolvers and the proceeds of two previous robberies found in their possession. They admitted also the theft of the auto in Detroit from whence they came to Chicago, and participated in twelve or more robberies here.

Detective Sergeant John Martin, 22nd Precinct, for bravery displayed on August 23, 1917, about 11:45 p. m., near 1733 W. Madison street, in arresting Harry Lindrum who had just shot and killed Patrolman Joseph Tiernan. Sergeant Martin pursued the murderer and shot at him four times as he was scaling a fence, but did not hit him. From the top of the fence Sergeant Martin fired again and hit Lindrum and placed him under arrest. Lindrum was tried and was hanged for the murder of Patrolman Tiernan.

Lieut. Burns saw the burglar as he started to run, and shot him in the left hip. The lieutenant and Officer Scanlan then disarmed him. Taylor was an ex-convict. WHEREAS, The need for this improvement is so obvious to Federal authorities and to the people of Chicago that it is merely a question of time when it will be erected; and it would seem in keeping with the nation-wide desire that everything possible be done at this time to provide employment that this improvement, that has been in contemplation for so many years, be started at as early a date as possible; therefore, be it

DEPARTMENT OF FINANCE,
REAL ESTATE DIVISION,
CHICAGO, January 10, 1919.

Hon. John Toman, Chairman, Committee on Streets and Alleys:

DEAR SIR—In accordance with your request we have prepared a list of corporations and individuals who filed objections to the general taxes for the year 1916, which we transmit herewith, said list being arranged alphabetically and showing the amount of city taxes withheld.

The compilation of this list has required an examination of all the Collector's warants on general taxes for the year 1916. It has been a great task and has been handled in addition to our regular work. While there are probably errors due to mistakes appearing on the Collector's warrants and to the inaccuracies which would occur in the transcription of so large a number of names and amounts, we are satisfied that the list is substantially correct.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) JOS. F. PEACOCK,
Real Estate Agent.

Approved:

(Signed) EUGENE R. PIKE,
Comptroller.

THIRTY-FIFTH WARD.

Ald. Clark, Kaindl and Govier presented the following resolution, which was, on motion, duly adopted:

Preparations now are being made throughout the United States to extend befitting welcome to the men of America who responded to civilization's appeal for help in overcoming the insufferable terrorism that threatened a return to the age of barbarism. Through the heroism of these men, who threw themselves in the path of the destructive forces loosed upon the world by the greed and lust of autocracy, the United States of America has been spared the ignominy of a slavery worse than death and the payment of billions in tribute to a victorious foe. Thousands of their comrades made the supreme sacrifice.

More than 3,000,000 men dropped their pursuits in civil life to make possible the wonderful force that brought about a speedy and just ending of the terrible conflict. It is recognized on every hand that the restoration to civil life of these men, many of them maimed and crippled for all time, will be a task of magnitude, involving inevitable delay and the danger to many of them of hardship through unemployment; therefore, be it

Resolved, by the City Council of the City of Chicago, That Congress be, and it hereby is, urged to make provision through suitable legislation whereby each person who was a member of the armed forces of the United States of America in the war with Germany shall be given six months' pay from and after the date of honorable discharge; be it further

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions, suitably engrossed, be forwarded to the presiding officer of each house of Congress, and to each Illinois senator and representative in Congress.

Opening and Extending of Ogden Av. from Union Park to Lincoln Park.

The Mayor submitted the following communication:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CHICAGO, February 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—On January 13, A. D. 1919, the Board of Local Improvements transmitted to your Honorable Body an ordinance for opening and extending Ogden avenue from West Randolph street and Bryan place to North Clark street and Center street, and this communication, together with the ordinance, was on the 13th day of January, A. D. 1919, referred by your Honorable Body to the Committee on Streets and Alleys, which committee, I am advised, on January 27, by a vote of five to four, voted to defer action on this matter until after election.

I am advised that the Board of Local Improvements held two public hearings for the purpose of ascertaining the wishes of the residents and property-owners most vitally interested in the matter, both of which hearings were largely attended, and that a resolution directing the Board of Local Improvements to proceed and recommend to the Council that Ogden avenue be extended was almost unanimously adopted. It is the policy of the Federal Government, the policy of the State Governments, the policy of the City Council, the policy of organized labor and the policy of capitalists and labor leaders throughout the country to encourage public work of the character of the Ogden avenue project in order to relieve the condition of the labor market throughout the country.

I also desire to advise your Honorable Body that it has been my policy at all times and the policy of my administration to promote improvements of the character of the Ogden avenue project and to complete the same at the earliest opportunity.

In view of the fact that the action of the Committee on Streets and Alleys in deferring the ordinance for the extension of Ogden avenue is against the expressed policy of the Government, Federal, State and Municipal, it is my opinion that the Committee on Streets and Alleys did not give this matter that careful consideration its importance demands.

I, therefore, respectfully recommend that your Honorable Body reconsider your action taken January 13 in referring this ordinance to the Committee on Streets and Alleys, and that the communication and the ordinance in question be considered by your Honorable Body in the Committee of the Whole and that the Council determine whether or not this improvement shall be undertaken without further delay.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WM. HALE THOMPSON,
Mayor.

Ald. Kennedy moved to reconsider the vote by which said ordinance was referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys January 13, 1919.

Ald. Toman raised the point of order that it was too late to reconsider said vote.

The Chair sustained the point of order.

Ald. L. B. Anderson thereupon moved that the Council resolve itself into Committee of the Whole Council for the purpose of considering the communication of the Mayor.

Subsequently, with the consent of the Council, Ald. L. B. Anderson withdrew said motion.

Ald. Cullerton thereupon moved that the Committee on Streets and Alleys be directed to submit a report to the Council at its next succeeding regular meeting, on said ordinance providing for the opening and extending of Ogden avenue.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Kunz moved that the communication from the Mayor be referred to the Committee on Streets and Alleys.

Opening of Bridges during "Rush Hours" to Boats Operated by the U. S. Govt.

The Clerk presented the following communications, submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works, which were ordered published and placed on file:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
BUREAU OF RIVERS AND HARBORS,
CHICAGO, January 31, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—On May 27 (page 231 C. P.) an ordinance was passed amending Sections 1107 and 1108 of the Municipal Code, thereby abolishing bridge hours for all government controlled boats.

Inasmuch as the emergency which caused the enactment of the above is now over, and that to continue same in force will result in many unnecessary and costly delays to all traffic, especially street car and elevated roads, I would therefore recommend that said ordinance be repealed.

I enclose herewith a copy of letter from the United States Shipping Board granting permission to repeal the ordinance.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) CHARLES R. FRANCES,
Commissioner of Public Works.

The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of said curbing shall be uniform from the summits to the catchbasin inlets, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement where the roadway is not occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through said gutter elevations and the elevation of the center of said finished roadway, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement where the roadway is occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter elevations and the elevation of the street at each side of said street railway rights of way, at every part of said East and West 79th street, and at every part of all intersecting streets, between said points.

In all intersecting alleys hereinbefore specified at the street lines produced of said East and West 79th street, the surface of the finished pavement adjoining the curbing shall be even with the top of the curbing, and the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadway of said alleys shall be three (3) inches below the top of the curbing, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement at the street lines produced of said East and West 79th street shall be an arc of a circle passing through the surface of the pavement adjoining said curbing and the surface of the pavement at the center of said finished roadways. The surface of said pavement thence shall slope gradually to meet the gutters hereinbefore specified.

Upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points, shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches in thickness.

Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two (92) per cent. will pass through a standard number one hundred (100) sieve having ten thousand (10,000) meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one (1) part said Portland cement and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, exposed to the air for one (1) day and immersed in water for six (6) days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of two hundred (200) pounds per square inch.

One (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and three (3) parts of torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust or other impurities, shall be thoroughly mixed dry and then made into mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Seven (7) parts of the best quality of slag, limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter, all of which slag or stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar. Each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface, and upon this foundation shall be spread a layer of Portland cement mortar in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform depth of one (1) inch, upon which shall be laid the brick pavement. Said mortar shall be composed of one (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and four (4) parts of torpedo sand or slag or limestone screenings, thoroughly mixed dry and then spread. Said layer of mortar shall be sprinkled with water immediately before laying the brick pavement.

The brick shall be vitrified paving brick, and shall be thoroughly annealed, tough and durable, regular in size, and shall be evenly burned. When broken, the brick shall show a dense and stone-like body, uniform in color inside, free from lumps of uncrushed clay, lime, air-pockets, cracks or marked laminations. Kiln marks or surface marks must not exceed three-sixteenths (3-16) of an inch in depth. The dimensions of the brick shall be the same throughout the entire work, and shall be four (4) inches in depth, not less than eight (8) inches in length and three and one-fourth (3¼) inches in thickness.

Twenty (20) or more specimen brick shall be furnished by each bidder for submission to the "abrasion" test by the Board of Local Improvements. Such tests shall be made in a machine known as a "Rattler" which shall consist of heads, liners and staves. The heads shall be not less than three-fourths (¾) inch thick nor more than seven-eighths (⅞) inch thick, and shall be cast with trunnions in one piece. In outline they shall be a regular polygon of fourteen (14) sides inscribed in a circle twenty-eight and three-eighths (28⅜) inches in diameter. The heads shall be provided with flanges extending outward from the inside face thereof to afford a means of fastening the staves. There shall be for each head a liner or wear plate one (1) inch in thickness and conforming to the outline of the head, but inscribed in a circle twenty-eight and one-eighth (28⅛) inches in diameter. These liners shall be made of hard machinery cast iron, which must contain not less than one (1) per cent of combined carbon, and shall be securely fastened to the heads by cap screws.

The staves shall be made of six (6) inch medium steel structural channels twenty-seven and one-fourth (27¼) inches long and weighing fifteen and five-tenths (15.5) pounds per lineal foot. The flat side of each channel shall be protected by a liner or wear plate made of medium steel three-eights (⅜) inch thick, by five and one-half (5½) inches wide, and nineteen and three-fourths (19¾) inches long.

The stave liner shall be securely fastened to the channel with rivets, which shall be chipped off flush with the surface of the liner. The liners of the staves must be so placed as to drop between the liners of the heads. The staves shall be bolted to the heads and shall form a barrel twenty (20) inches long, inside measurement between liners. The barrel shall be mounted on a cast iron frame securely fastened to a rigid foundation, and shall be driven by suitable gearing.

The charge shall be composed of said brick and iron abrasive material. The brick charge shall consist of ten (10) whole brick and the abrasive charge shall consist of three hundred (300) pounds of shot made from iron having a chemical composition within the following limits: combined carbon, not less than 2.50 per cent; graphitic carbon, not more than 0.10 per cent; silicon, not more than 1.0 per cent; manganese, not more than 0.50 per cent; phosphorus, not more than 0.25 per cent; sulphur, not more than 0.08 per cent. Said shot shall consist of spheres having a diameter of one and seven-eighths (1⅞) inches aggregating two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds in weight, and spheres three and three-fourth (3¾) inches in diameter, aggregating seventy-five (75) pounds. in weight.

The rattler, after being thus charged, shall be revolved eighteen hundred (1800) times, and the speed of rotation shall not fall below twenty-nine and one-half (29½) nor exceed thirty and one-half (30½) per minute. The average loss of weight by abrasion during two tests shall not exceed twenty (20) per cent of the original weight of the brick tested. The test shall be made on charges containing but one make of brick at a time. Said brick shall be thoroughly dry when tested.

All brick used must be equal in every respect to the brick submitted for test.

The brick shall be laid as follows, to wit: Broken brick can only be used to break joints in starting courses and in making closures, but in no case shall less than three-eighths (⅜) of a brick be used. The brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the sides and ends close together, across said roadbeds parallel to vertical planes which shall be at right angles to the curb lines of said roadways.

On roadway intersections the brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the sides and ends close together and parallel to vertical planes which shall be at an angle of forty-five (45) degrees with the center line of the street.

The joints shall be broken by a lap of not less than three (3) inches. The brick when set shall be rolled with a roller of five (5) tons weight until the brick is well settled and made firm. When the brick is thoroughly bedded, the surface of the pavement must be true to the form of roadway hereinbefore described.

The joints or spaces between the brick shall be filled with asphaltic filler at a temperature between two hundred and eighty (280) degrees and three hundred and seventy-five (375) degrees Fahrenheit.

Said filler shall have a specific gravity of not less than unity one (1.00) at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit. It shall have a penetration at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit of not less than four (4) nor more than ten (10) millimeters when tested with a number two (2) needle weighted with one hundred (100) grams for five (5) seconds, and it shall melt at a temperature of not less than one hundred and ten (110) degrees nor more than one hundred and fifty (150) degrees Fahrenheit. The surface of the pavement shall then receive a one-fourth (¼) inch dressing of clean, dry sand.

Sixty-two (62) new brick catchbasins shall be constructed and trapped and connected with the sewer in East and West 79th street and located in the roadway of said East and West 79th street at necessary points, adjacent to the curb lines. Each of said catchbasins shall be seven feet two inches deep, measuring from the top of the brickwork, and shall have an internal diameter of four feet at the bottom and to a plane five feet above and parallel therewith. The walls of said catchbasins shall be eight inches thick and shall be built of two courses of sewer brick laid edgewise in perpendicular courses, upon a floor of pine plank two inches in thickness. The top of each of said catchbasins shall decrease to two feet internal diameter, being drawn in by means of nine header courses, the diameter being decreased uniformly for each course.

Each of said catchbasins shall be connected with the sewer with tile pipe of eight inches internal diameter and shall be trapped with a half trap also of tile pipe of eight inches internal diameter. The said trap of each said catchbasins shall be set so that the elevation of the bottom of the inside of the same shall be three feet six inches above the floor of the catchbasin.

Each of said catchbasins shall be provided with a suitable cast-iron cover, each of which covers, inclusive of lid, shall weigh five hundred and forty pounds. Each of said cast-iron covers shall be set so that the top of the same shall coincide with the finished surface of the pavement herein described.

The tile pipe specified above shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned, well glazed and free from lumps and other imperfections, and three-fourths of an inch thick.

All brick and the joints of the tile pipe above referred to shall be laid with the best quality of natural hydraulic cement mortar, composed of one part natural hydraulic cement and two parts clean, sharp sand.

The several sewer manholes and catchbasins located in said roadway shall be raised or lowered as may be necessary to make them conform to the finished surface of said pavement; and the several catchbasins located outside of said roadway shall be raised or lowered as may be necessary to make them conform to the elevations herein described. The several catchbasins located on the line of the curb shall be raised or lowered and adjusted as may be necessary to make them conform to the finished surface of said pavement, or to said elevations according to whether the major part of said catchbasin lies within or without the line of said curb. Catchbasin inlets shall be constructed at necessary points in said gutters. The catchbasins not located in the gutters shall be connected with said inlets by means of tile pipe of eight (8) inches internal diameter laid with the best quality of natural hydraulic cement mortar, composed of one (1) part natural hydraulic cement and two (2) parts clean, sharp sand. Said tile pipe shall be straight, smooth and sound, thoroughly burned, well glazed, free from lumps and other imperfections, and three-fourths of an inch thick.

Said work to be done in a workmanlike manner under the superintendence of the Board of Local Improvements of the said City of Chicago.

Franklin-Orleans St. Bridge: Report of Progress.

The Clerk presented the following communication, submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works, which was ordered published and

Referred to the Special Committee on Unemployment:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
BUREAU OF ENGINEERING,
CHICAGO, February 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN—Referring to an order passed by your Honorable Body on January 20, 1919, directing that a report be made in connection with the construction of the Franklin-Orleans Street Bridge, I beg to submit the following report:

Work on the substructure of this bridge, together with all bridge construction work, was greatly retarded by the government restrictions in force in the material markets and the shortage of man power prior to the signing of the armistice. The substructure on the south side of the river is now completed, ready to receive the superstructure.

The work of constructing the cofferdam to be used in connection with the construction of the substructure on the north side of the river was commenced today and the contractor states that the substructure on the north side of the river will be completed about July 1, 1919. The delivery of structural steel for the south side of the river is expected February 15, 1919, and for the north side of the river during June, 1919.

Barring unforeseen difficulties this bridge will be completed during December, 1919.

Yours truly,

(Signed) CHAS. R. FRANCIS,
Commissioner of Public Works.

(Signed) JOHN ERICSON,
City Engineer.

Polk St., Taylor St. and 12th St. Bridges: Report of Progress.

The Clerk presented the following communication, submitted by the Commissioner of Public Works, which was ordered published and

Referred to the Special Committee on Unemployment:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC WORKS,
BUREAU OF ENGINEERING,
CHICAGO, February 3, 1919.

To the Honorable, the Mayor and City Council:

GENTLEMEN—In conformity with an order passed January 27, 1919, directing that the City of Chicago, through the Commissioner of Public Works, proceed without delay in the erection of bridge and approaches on West 12th street, and that plans and specifications be commenced and contract let in the near future for new bridges on Taylor and Polk streets, and in the event of the impossibility of the early performance of these projects, that a report be submitted to the Council giving reasons therefor, I submit the following report:

WEST 12TH STREET BRIDGE AND APPROACHES.

The first step in this project is the lengthening of the present drawspan, which, under a Council order must be kept in service during the construction of the new improvement. The necessary protection work was started about two weeks ago and actual work on the caissons for the east abutment and the approaches will be commenced Wednesday, February 5th. Due to the peculiar conditions at this bridge site this work will be done by day labor.

TAYLOR STREET BRIDGE.

Until it is definitely settled whether the proposed straightening of the river at this point is to be carried out or not, any plans and specifications made would fit only one of these conditions and the time and money wasted if the other conditions should prevail. The Department of Public Works has endeavored since 1914 to get a decision in this matter, but up to the present writing has failed to get this information.

POLK STREET BRIDGE.

Plans and specifications for this bridge are again dependent on the proposed widening of Polk street between State and Wells streets, since if this improvement is not carried into effect a new and wider bridge at this point would not be an improvement over present conditions.

We understand that this matter is now being studied by the Chicago Plan Commission. Until a final decision is made in this case any work on plans for this bridge will be premature.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) CHAS. R. FRANCIS,
Commissioner of Public Works.

(Signed) JOHN ERICSON,
City Engineer.

A BILL

For an Act to confer certain additional powers upon City Councils in cities and presidents and Boards of Trustees in villages concerning buildings, the intensity of use of lot areas, the classification of buildings, trades, and industries with respect to location and regulation, the creation of residential, industrial, commercial, and other districts, and the exclusion from and regulation within such districts of classes of buildings, trades and industries.

SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the People of the State of Illinois, represented in the General Assembly: That in addition to existing powers, and to the end that adequate light, pure air and safety from fire and other dangers may be secured, that the taxable value of land and buildings throughout the city or village may be conserved, that congestion in the public streets may be lessened or avoided, and that the public health, safety, comfort and welfare may otherwise be promoted, the city council in each city, and the president and board of trustees in each village, shall have the following powers:

To regulate and limit the height and bulk of buildings hereafter to be erected, to regulate and limit the intensity of the use of lot areas and to regulate and determine the area of yards, courts and other open spaces within and surrounding such buildings; to classify, regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and the location of buildings designed for specified uses; to make regulations designating the trades and industries that shall be excluded or subjected to special regulations within fixed districts and designating uses for which buildings may not be erected or altered in such district; to divide the city or village or portions of same into districts of such number, shape and area as may be deemed best suited to carry out the purposes of this act, including the power to create and establish residential districts within which new buildings designed for business may be excluded, restricted or limited, and including the power to regulate and restrict the location of trades and industries and buildings designed for same in such a way that classes of industries which affect the general comfort of the public may be excluded from districts where commercial and professional pursuits which do not affect the comfort of the public are carried on; and to prevent the alteration or remodeling of existing buildings in such a way as to avoid the restrictions and limitations lawfully imposed on any such district; Provided, that in ordinances passed under the authority of this Act due allowance shall be made for existing conditions, the conservation of property values, the direction of building development to the best advantage of the entire city or village, and the uses to which property is devoted at the time of the enactment of any such ordinance, and that the powers by this act given shall not be exercised so as to deprive the owner of any existing property unreasonably of its use for the purpose to which it is then lawfully devoted.

SECTION 2. No ordinance under the authority of this Act shall be enacted until a public hearing has been held upon the subject matter of the proposed ordinance before a commission, board or committee authorized by the city council in cities, or the president and board of trustees in villages, to investigate and make recommendations concerning such subject matter, after publication in a newspaper of such city or village of a notice of the time and place of such hearing at least thirty days in advance thereof and the posting of such notice at four places as near the extreme corners of such district as practicable, which notice shall indicate the boundaries of the territory to be affected both by the designation of the streets and house numbers included and by the legal description of the property therein, and shall state what regulations under the authority of this act affecting such territory are to be considered at such hearing. In addition to making publication and posting notices as herein provided, the city or village clerk, as the case may be, shall mail a notice of similar import to the person shown by the records of the County Collector as the one who paid the last general taxes on each lot or parcel of land situated within such territory, and the affidavit of the said clerk to the effect that such notices were mailed shall be taken as conclusive that sufficient notice was given to all parties interested. No ordinance shall be passed hereunder which shall enlarge the boundaries of the territory as indicated in such notice when a district is first created without another such notice and public hearing, but the boundaries of same may be reduced without additional publication and hearing.

SECTION 3. After the public hearing herein provided for, a majority of the owners of the land or lots within the proposed district according to frontage on the streets at that time dedicated to public use shall have the right to file their objection in writing to the formation of such district or to the regulation or restrictions proposed therein. Such written objection may consist of one sheet or of a number of sheets bound together, with the signature of such owners, the location of the property and the amount of frontage owned by each stated thereon after each name, and the same may be filed with the city or village clerk as the case may be. Upon the filing of such objection, if it shall appear that a majority of such owners according to frontage are opposed to the formation or creation of such district as is proposed, or to the regulations or restrictions proposed for any such district, all proceedings for same shall be discontinued, and no ordinance for the creation or formation of such district in such territory shall be passed, and no new proceedings for the formation or creation of such district within the said territory shall be begun within one year after the filing of such objection. If such objection is directed only against the proposed regulations and restrictions, new proceedings as herein provided for may be begun at any time for the purpose of changing or modifying the proposed regulations and restrictions.

SECTION 4. The regulations imposed and the districts created under the authority of this Act may be amended, supplemented or changed from time to time by ordinance after the ordinance establishing same has gone into effect, but in case of written protest against a proposed amendment, supplement or change, signed by the owners of twenty per cent of the frontage proposed to be altered, or by the owners of twenty per cent of the frontage immediately adjoining or across an alley therefrom, or by the owners of twenty per cent of the frontage directly opposite the frontage proposed to be altered, filed with the city clerk in cities, or the village clerk in villages, such amendment shall not be passed except by the favorable vote of two-thirds of the members of the city council in cities, or of the members of the board of trustees in villages; Provided, that it shall always be within the power of a majority of the owners of lands and lots according to frontage within a proposed addition to such a district to prevent such addition by filing objection thereto as herein provided.

SECTION 5. Upon the passage of an ordinance under the authority of this Act a certified copy of the same, together with a plat of the territory affected certified to by the Mayor of the city or the president of the board of trustees of the village, as the case may be, shall be filed for record in the office of the recorder of deeds of the county in which the said territory is located.

West 68th street at a line parallel with and 125 feet east of the east line of South Irving avenue 22.30 feet above datum.

The above elevations as fixed shall be measured from Chicago City datum as established by the City Council of the City of Chicago.

The roadways of the several streets specified above between the points hereinbefore described, and also the roadways of all streets and alleys intersecting the several streets specified above and extending from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of each of said above specified streets between the points hereinbefore described (except the intersections of South Irving avenue, South Oakley avenue and South Claremont avenue with West Marquette road) shall be so graded that after being thoroughly puddled and rolled with a roller of ten (10) tons weight until the roadbeds are thoroughly compacted and after the pavement hereinafter described shall have been placed thereon, the surface of the pavement at the center of the finished roadway of each of said above specified streets, and the center of the finished roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of each of said above specified streets shall be at the elevation of the top of the curbing hereinbefore described; and the surface of the finished roadways at the summits in the gutters between catchbasins and adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be three (3) inches below the top of said curbing, and the surface of the finished roadways at the catchbasin inlets in the gutters adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be ten (10) inches below the top of said curbing.

The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of said curbing shall be uniform from the summits to the catchbasin inlets, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement and gutters shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter elevations and the elevation of the center of said finished roadways, at every part of the roadway of each of said above specified streets, and at every part of the roadways of all streets intersecting the several streets specified above, between the points hereinbefore described.

In all intersecting alleys hereinbefore specified at the street lines produced of said above specified streets, the surface of the finished pavement adjoining the curbing shall be even with the top of the curbing, and the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadway of said alleys shall be three (3) inches below the top of the curbing, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement at the street lines produced of said above specified streets shall be an arc of a circle passing through the surface of the pavement adjoining said curbing and the surface of the pavement at the center of said finished roadways. The surface of the said pavement thence shall slope gradually to meet the gutters hereinbefore specified.

Upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points, and between said gutters shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches in thickness. Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two (92) per cent. will pass through a standard number one hundred (100) sieve having ten thousand (10,000) meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one (1) part said Portland cement and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, exposed to the air for one (1) day and immersed in water for six (6) days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of two hundred (200) pounds per square inch.

One (1) part cement which shall stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and three (3) parts of torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, shall be thoroughly mixed dry and then made into mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Seven (7) parts of the best quality of slag, limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter, all of which slag or stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar. Each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface. The surface of said layer of concrete shall be parallel with and three and one-half (3½) inches below the top of the finished pavement.

Upon the concrete foundation as above specified shall be laid a binder course, composed of asphaltic cement and gravel or clean broken limestone crusher run and of varying sizes which will pass through a ring of one (1) inch internal diameter.

The gravel or stone shall be heated and thoroughly mixed with the asphaltic cement in the proportions of six (6) parts by weight of asphaltc cement and ninety-four (94) parts by weight of gravel or stone. This binder shall be spread on the base above described, and while in a hot and plastic condition shall be rolled until it has a uniform thickness of one and one-half (1½) inches. The upper surface shall be exactly parallel with and two (2) inches below the finished surface of the pavement.

Upon this binder course shall be laid a wearing surface or pavement proper, which shall be composed of asphaltic cement seventeen (17) parts, sand seventy-three (73) parts, and pulverized carbonate of lime or pulverized silica ten (10) parts. The sand and asphaltic cement shall be heated separately to a temperature of three hundred (300) degrees Fahrenheit. The pulverized carbonate of lime or the pulverized silica shall be mixed with the sand and these ingredients then mixed with the asphaltic cement at the above temperature in an apparatus which shall effect a perfect mixture.

The material for pavement when mixed as above shall be spread at a temperature of two hundred and fifty (250) degrees Fahrenheit. It shall be carefully spread by means of hot iron rakes in such manner as to give uniform and regular grade to such a depth, that after having received its ultimate compression it will have a thickness of two (2) inches.

The entire surface of the roadways thus improved shall then be compressed by hand rollers, after which natural hydraulic cement in the proportion of one (1) barrel to each one thousand (1,000) square yards of surface shall be swept over it, and the whole then thoroughly compressed by rolling with a steam roller of ten (10) tons weight the rolling being continued for five (5) hours for each one thousand (1,000) square yards of surface.

All asphaltum used in the making of the asphaltic cement for both the binder and the wearing surface shall be asphaltum obtained from Pitch Lake in the Island of Trinidad, or asphaltum which shall be equal in quality for paving purposes to that obtained from Pitch Lake in the Island of Trinidad.

Eighteen (18) new brick catchbasins shall be constructed and trapped and connected with the sewer in South Claremont avenue and located in the roadway of said South Claremont avenue at necessary points, adjacent to the curb lines of said South Claremont avenue.

Twenty (20) new brick catchbasins shall be constructed and trapped and connected with the sewer in South Oakley avenue and located in the roadway of said South Oakley avenue at necessary points, adjacent to the curb lines of said South Oakley avenue.

Eighteen (18) new brick catchbasins shall be constructed and trapped and connected with the sewer in South Irving avenue and located in the roadway of said South Irving avenue at necessary points, adjacent to the curb lines of said South Irving avenue.

AN ORDINANCE

For the improvement — adjusting sewer catchbasins, constructing and connecting catchbasin inlets, constructing new brick catchbasins complete, curbing, grading and paving—of the roadway of Diversey avenue from the west curb line of North Crawford avenue to the east line of North Cicero avenue and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Diversey avenue, between said points (except that part of Diversey avenue lying between the west line and the west curb line of North Crawford avenue and between lines parallel with and nineteen (19) feet north and south of the center line of Diversey avenue and except steam railroad rights of way thereon between said points and also except street railway rights of way thereon between said points which rights of way are by the ordinances granting them required to be paved and kept in repair by the companies owning, operating and controlling the same) in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. That a local improvement shall be made within the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois, the nature, character, locality and description of which local improvement is as follows, to wit:

That the roadway of Diversey avenue from the west curb line of North Crawford avenue to the east line of North Cicero avenue, the width of said roadway being hereby established at forty-two (42) feet and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Diversey avenue between said points, except as hereinafter specifically provided, be and the same are hereby ordered improved as follows:

The best quality of sandstone curbstones shall be set on edge along their length on each side of the roadway of said Diversey avenue between said points (except across steam railroad rights of way thereon between said points and also except across the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys between said points), in such a manner that the roadway face of the curb on the south side of said roadway of said Diversey avenue shall be parallel with and twelve (12) feet north of the south line of said Diversey avenue and in such a manner that the roadway face of the curb on the north side of the roadway of said Diversey avenue shall be parallel with and fifty-four (54) feet north of the south line of said Diversey avenue.

The best quality of sandstone curbstones shall be set on edge along their length on each side of the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Diversey avenue between said points in such a manner that the roadway face of the curb shall conform with the curb line produced on each side of all said intersecting streets and in such a manner that the back of the curb shall conform with the alley line produced on each side of all said intersecting alleys between said points.

Said curbstones shall be five (5) feet long, eighteen (18) inches deep and six (6) inches thick after being dressed with the top edge straight, full and square. Each curbstone shall be neatly dressed on its top surface, and on its roadway face for the space of fourteen (14) inches down from the top, and on its back for the space of three (3) inches down from the top, and shall have a straight base its whole length. The upper roadway edge of said curbstones shall be cut to an arc of a circle having a radius of one and one-half (1½) inches.

Said curbstones shall be supported at each joint by being firmly bedded upon a layer of Portland cement concrete eighteen (18) inches in length, twelve (12) inches in width and six (6) inches in depth. The roadway face of said layer shall conform with the roadway face of the curbstones and nine (9) inches of each end of each of said curbstones shall rest upon said layer. A layer of Portland cement concrete eighteen (18) inches in length, six (6) inches in width and twelve (12) inches in depth shall be placed at the back of said curbstones. The top of said last mentioned layer shall be six (6) inches below the top of said curbstones and the roadway face of said last mentioned layer shall extend along the back of said curbstones for a distance of nine (9) inches from each end of each of said curbstones, and shall support said curbstones. The above described layers of Portland cement concrete shall be constructed at the same time, so as to form a monolithic mass, and shall be of the same kind and quality as that used in the concrete foundation of the roadways hereinafter described.

Earth filling, free from animal or vegetable matter shall be placed at the back of said curbing; the top of said filling to be even with the top of said curbing. Said filling shall be four (4) feet wide at the top and shall slope down at the rate of one and one-half (1½) feet horizontal to one (1) foot vertical.

The curbstones on each side of the roadway of said Diversey avenue shall be set so that the top edge of the same shall be at the elevation of straight lines connecting the several points at the curb elevations hereinafter described, and the curbstones on each side of the roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Diversey avenue shall be set so that the top edge of the same shall be at the curb elevation of said intersecting streets hereinafter described, and the curbstones on each side of the roadways of all intersecting alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Diversey avenue shall be set so that the top edge of the same shall rise from the curb line to the street line produced at the rate of one (1) inch vertical to three (3) feet horizontal from the elevation of the curb of said Diversey avenue between said points, which curb elevations and also the elevation of center of roadway of said Diversey avenue shall be as follows, to wit:

The roadway of said Diversey avenue between said points and also the roadways of all intersecting streets and alleys extended from the curb line to the street line produced on each side of said Diversey avenue between said points (except that part of Diversey avenue lying between the west line and the west curb line of North Crawford avenue and between lines parallel with and nineteen (19) feet north and south of the center line of Diversey avenue and except steam railroad rights of way thereon between said points and also except street railway rights of way thereon between said points which rights of way are by the ordinances granting them required to be paved and kept in repair by the companies owning, operating and controlling the same) shall be so graded that after being thoroughly puddled and rolled with a roller of ten (10) tons weight until the roadbeds are thoroughly compacted and after the pavement hereinafter described shall have been placed thereon, the surface of the pavement at the center of the finished roadway of said Diversey avenue and the center of the finished roadways of all intersecting streets extended from the curb line to the street line produced, on each side of said Diversey avenue, except where the roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way shall be at the elevation of center of roadway hereinbefore described, and where said roadways are occupied by street railway rights of way the entire width of all such rights of way shall be at the elevation of center of roadway hereinbefore described, and the surface of the finished roadways at the summits in the gutters between catchbasins and adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be three (3) inches below the top of said curbing, and the surface of the finished roadways at the catchbasin inlets in the gutters adjoining the roadway face of the curbing shall be ten (10) inches below the top of said curbing.

The slope of the gutters adjoining the roadway face of said curbing shall be uniform from the summits to the catchbasin inlets, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement where the roadway is not occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through said gutter elevations and the elevation of the center of said finished roadway, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement where the roadway is occupied by street railway rights of way shall be an arc of a circle passing through the said gutter elevations and the elevation of the street at each side of said street railway rights of way, at every part of said Diversey avenue and at every part of all intersecting streets between said points.

In all intersecting alleys hereinbefore specified at the street lines produced of said Diversey avenue, the surface of the finished pavement adjoining the curbing shall be even with the top of the curbing, and the surface of the finished pavement at the center of the roadway of said alleys shall be three (3) inches below the top of the curbing, and a transverse section of the finished surface of the pavement at the street lines produced of said Diversey avenue, shall be an arc of a circle passing through the surface of the pavement adjoining said curbing and the surface of the pavement at the center of said finished roadways. The surface of said pavement thence shall slope gradually to meet the gutters hereinbefore specified.

Upon the roadbeds thus prepared between said points (except that part of said roadway one and three-tenths (1.3) feet in width on each side of and adjoining the street railway rights of way), shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches in thickness.

Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two (92) per cent will pass through a standard number one hundred (100) sieve having ten thousand (10,000) meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one (1) part said Portland cement and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, exposed to the air for one (1) day and immersed in water for six (6) days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of two hundred (200) pounds per square inch.

One (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and three (3) parts of torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust or other impurities, shall be thoroughly mixed dry and then made into mortar with the least possible amount of water.

Seven (7) parts of the best quality of slag, limestone, or other stone which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter, all of which slag or stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar. Each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbeds and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface, and upon this foundation shall be spread a layer of Portland cement mortar in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform depth of one (1) inch, upon which shall be laid the brick pavement. Said mortar shall be composed of one (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and four (4) parts of torpedo sand or slag or limestone screenings, thoroughly mixed dry and then spread. Said layer of mortar shall be sprinkled with water immediately before laying the brick pavement.

The brick shall be vitrified paving brick, and shall be thoroughly annealed, tough and durable, regular in size, and shall be evenly burned. When broken, the brick shall show a dense and stone-like body, uniform in color inside, free from lumps of uncrushed clay, lime, air-pockets, cracks or marked laminations. Kiln marks or surface cracks must not exceed three-sixteenths (3/16) of an inch in depth. The dimensions of the brick shall be the same throughout the entire work, and shall be four (4) inches in depth, not less than eight (8) inches in length and three and one-fourth (3¼) inches in thickness.

Twenty (20) or more specimen brick shall be furnished by each bidder for submission to the "abrasion" test by the Board of Local Improvements. Such tests shall be made in a machine known as a "Rattler" which shall consist of heads, liners and staves. The heads shall be not less than three-fourths (¾) inch thick nor more than seven-eighths (⅞) inch thick, and shall be cast with trunnions in one piece. In outline they shall be a regular polygon of fourteen (14) sides inscribed in a circle twenty-eight and three-eighths (28⅜) inches in diameter. The heads shall be provided with flanges extending outward from the inside face thereof to afford a means of fastening the staves. There shall be for each head a liner or wear plate one (1) inch in thickness and conforming to the outline of the head, but inscribed in a circle twenty-eight and one-eighth (28⅛) inches in diameter. These liners shall be made of hard machinery cast iron, which must contain not less than one (1) per cent of combined carbon, and shall be securely fastened to the heads by cap screws.

The staves shall be made of six (6) inch medium steel structural channels twenty-seven and one-fourth (27¼) inches long and weighing fifteen and five-tenths (15.5) pounds per lineal foot. The flat side of each channel shall be protected by a liner or wear plate made of medium steel three-eighths (⅜) inch thick, by five and one-half (5½) inches wide, and nineteen and three-fourths (19¾) inches long.

The stave liner shall be securely fastened to the channel with rivets, which shall be chipped off flush with the surface of the liner. The liners of the staves must be so placed as to drop between the liners of the heads. The staves shall be bolted to the heads and shall form a barrel twenty (20) inches long, inside measurement between liners. The barrel shall be mounted on a cast iron frame securely fastened to a rigid foundation, and shall be driven by suitable gearing.

The charge shall be composed of said brick and iron abrasive material. The brick charge shall consist of ten (10) whole brick and the abrasive charge shall consist of three hundred (300) pounds of shot made from iron having a chemical composition within the following limits: combined carbon, not less than 2.50 per cent; graphitic carbon, not more than 0.10 per cent; silicon, not more than 1.0 per cent; manganese, not more than 0.50 per cent; phosphorus, not more than 0.25 per cent; sulphur, not more than 0.08 per cent. Said shot shall consist of spheres having a diameter of one and seven-eighths (1⅞) inches aggregating two hundred and twenty-five (225) pounds in weight, and spheres three and three-fourths (3¾) inches in diameter, aggregating seventy-five (75) pounds in weight.

The rattler, after being thus charged, shall be revolved eighteen hundred (1800) times, and the speed of rotation shall not fall below twenty-nine and one-half (29½) nor exceed thirty and one-half (30½) per minute. The average loss of weight by abrasion during two tests shall not exceed twenty (20) per cent of the original weight of the brick tested. The test shall be made on charges containing but one make of brick at a time. Said brick shall be thoroughly dry when tested.

All brick used must be equal in every respect to the brick submitted for test.

The brick shall be laid as follows, to wit: Broken brick can only be used to break joints in starting courses and in making closures, but in no case shall less than three-eighths (⅜) of a brick be used. The brick shall be set lengthwise on edge, with the sides and ends close together, across said roadbeds parallel to vertical planes which shall be at right angles to the curb lines of said roadways.

On roadway intersections the brick shall be set lengthwise on edge with the sides and ends close together and parallel to vertical planes which shall be at an angle of forty-five (45) degrees with the center line of the street.

The joints shall be broken by a lap of not less than three (3) inches. The brick when set shall be rolled with a roller of five (5) tons weight until the brick is well settled and made firm. When the brick is thoroughly bedded, the surface of the pavement must be true to the form of roadway hereinbefore described.

The joints or spaces between the brick shall be filled with asphaltic filler at a temperature between two hundred and eighty (280) degrees and three hundred and seventy-five (375) degrees Fahrenheit.

Said filler shall have a specific gravity of not less than unity one (1.00) at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit. It shall have a penetration at seventy-seven (77) degrees Fahrenheit of not less than four (4) nor more than ten (10) millimeters when tested with a number two (2) needle weighted with one hundred (100) grams for five (5) seconds, and it shall melt at a temperature of not less than one hundred and ten (110) degrees nor more than one hundred and fifty (150) degrees Fahrenheit. The surface of the pavement shall then receive a one-fourth (¼) inch dressing of clean, dry sand.

Upon that part of the roadbed thus prepared one and three-tenths (1.3) feet in width on each side of and adjoining the street railway rights of way between said points shall be spread a layer of Portland cement concrete six (6) inches, in thickness. Said cement shall be so ground that ninety-two (92) per cent. will pass through a standard number one hundred (100) sieve having ten thousand (10,000) meshes per square inch.

Briquettes made from a mortar composed of one (1) part said Portland cement and three (3) parts torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities, exposed to the air for one (1) day and immersed in water for six (6) days, shall develop an ultimate tensile strength of two hundred (200) pounds per square inch.

One (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements, and three (3) parts of torpedo sand, or three (3) parts of limestone screenings, free from dirt, dust and other impurities shall be thoroughly mixed dry and then made into a mortar with the least possible amount of water. Seven (7) parts of the best quality of slag, limestone or other stone, which shall be equal in quality for concrete purposes, of a size that will pass through a ring of two (2) inches internal diameter and be held on a ring of one-half (½) inch internal diameter, all of which slag or stone shall be thoroughly cleaned, free from all foreign substances and drenched with water, shall then be incorporated immediately with the mortar.

Each batch of concrete shall be thoroughly mixed and at once spread upon the surface of said roadbed and thoroughly compacted by ramming until free mortar appears on the surface.

The surface of said layer of concrete shall be parallel with and five (5) inches below the top of the granite blocks when laid as hereinafter described.

Upon the concrete foundation above specified shall be spread a layer of Portland cement mortar in such quantity as to insure when compacted a uniform depth of one (1) inch. Said mortar shall be composed of one (1) part cement which will stand the above test and comply with the above requirements and four (4) parts of torpedo sand or slag screenings or limestone screenings thoroughly mixed dry and then spread. Said layer of mortar shall be sprinkled with water immediately before laying the granite blocks.

The pavement shall consist of granite blocks of the best quality, of uniform texture, without lamination or stratification, and free from an excess of mica or felspar; the dimensions of said blocks shall be four (4) inches in width, four (4) inches in depth and from six (6) to ten (10) inches in length. The blocks shall be laid on edge with their length parallel with said street railway rights of way and the spaces between the sides and ends of the blocks shall not be less than one-eighth (⅛) of an inch, nor more than five-eighths (⅝) of an inch.

The blocks shall be so laid as to break joints in alternate courses, each course, so far as practicable, to be of uniform depth and width. The blocks shall then be rammed to a firm and unyielding bed and to a uniform surface.

"WHEREAS, Some of these boys are now returning, and many others are soon to return to their homes who will not find employment, although better qualified than before to resume their former positions; therefore,

BOARD OF LOCAL IMPROVEMENTS,
CHICAGO, February 21, 1919.

Hon. John A. Richert, Chairman, Committee on Finance, City of Chicago:

DEAR SIR—I again respectfully call to your attention the necessity of having an automobile and chauffeur, for the use of the president of the Board of Local Improvements.

I am called upon to make trips to various parts of the City every day, relative to work of the Department. Sometimes these trips take me from the north-side to the west-side and the south-side. I am also called to address meetings of improvement clubs, evenings, regarding proposed improvements. I have in this way been able to save the City both time and money, by explaining to property-owners details of these improvements that they would otherwise have opposed and fought in court.

The present method of ordering a machine from an auto station is both expensive and unsatisfactory. While I am waiting for the machine to arrive, property owners who have business with the Department and whom I must look after, come into my office. I cannot drop the business I have up at the time the machine arrives, and consequently the machine is left waiting for me.

Will you kindly take this up at your next meeting. I would be pleased to appear in person and explain the necessity of this request to the Committee. Thanking you for your kind consideration, I am

Yours very truly,

(Signed) M. J. FAHERTY,
President.

The Chairman stated that the general question before the house was the report of the Committee on Finance in the matter of appropriation needs of the city for the year 1919, and that the immediate question was a motion made by Ald. A. A. McCormick on Friday, February 20, 1919, to amend said report by decreasing the appropriation estimate for street and alley cleaning and garbage removal by $1,000,000.00.

Ald. Cullerton moved to lay said amendment on the table.

The motion to lay on the table prevailed, by yeas and nays as follows:

Yeas—L. B. Anderson, Jackson, Mulcahy, Fetzer, Woodhull, Furman, Johnson, Klaus, McNichols, Cullerton, Ahern, Horne, Smith, Kaindl, Olsen, Piotrowski, Touhy, Kavanagh, Powers, Bowler, Fick, Franz, Ellison, Roeder, Haderlein, Kennedy, Adamowski, Wm. J. Lynch, O'Toole, Moran, Lyle, A. O. Anderson, Toman—34.

Nays—Coughlin, Iliff, Schwartz, Richert, McDonough, A. A. McCormick, Guernsey, Novak, Maypole, Walker, Bauler, Wallace, Steffen, Capitain, Link, Lipps, Pretzel, Watson, Fisher—19.

Ald. Richert moved to amend the report of the Committee on Finance by inserting on page 52 thereof immediately before the line reading "Total, Bureau of Engineering" the following language:

"($400,000.00 to be reimbursed from proceeds of a bond issue if authorized.)"

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Richert stated that the Chicago Bureau of Public Efficiency and other civic bodies recommended that the estimate of $300,000.00 for repairs by contract or open order for the Bureau of Engineering be decreased in the sum of $100,000.00, and moved that said recommendation be not concurred in.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Schwartz moved that the item of $2,746,362.00 for increases in salary and wage rates of City employes, as set up on page 54 of the report of the Committee on Finance, be approved as a tentative estimate of the amount necessary for such purpose.

The motion prevailed (Ald. Capitain requesting that he be recorded as voting "No" on said motion).

Ald. Woodhull presented the following resolution:

WHEREAS, At the time the Juul Law was enacted in 1901, and from time to time since then when the same was amended, the rate of taxation for the City of Chicago was so fixed as to take care of its current needs from year to year; and

WHEREAS, There would have been sufficient revenue from taxation to meet the requirements if the City had received in full the corporate taxes from year to year as extended by the County Clerk and had not expended large sums for permanent improvements which should have been provided for by the issuance of bonds; and

WHEREAS, It appears that during the years 1901 to 1917 inclusive the total amount of taxes that became delinquent amounted to $6,879,042.42, of which only $899,849.18 has been collected in the form of back taxes, leaving a net deficit of $5,979,193.24 exclusive of the cost of collection, with the result that instead of a surplus to the credit of the general corporate fund of $2,047,318.08, which it would have if all of said taxes had been collected, there is in fact a deficit of $3,931,875.16; and

WHEREAS, During the past six years there has been expended from the revenues of the general corporate fund, under appropriations for permanent improvements, the sum of $3,812,500.44; and

WHEREAS, Under the law it is possible to dispose of tax anticipation warrants against the current tax levy to the extent of only seventy-five per cent of same, thereby making it necessary from year to year to have a surplus accruing to the city from former levies in order to take care of the current expenditures of such year; and

WHEREAS, By reason of the wiping out of the surplus and the existence of the deficit, brought about as hereinbefore set forth, it is impossible to properly finance the city, since its needs cannot be provided for out of the seventy-five per cent of the taxes levied which can be realized from tax anticipation warrants; and

WHEREAS, The borrowing power of the city is nearly exhausted and there is great need of certain permanent public improvements which can be secured only through the issuance of bonds which the city is now powerless to issue: Therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Chicago hereby recommends to the Fifty-first General Assembly of Illinois that such legislation be enacted as will enable said city to increase its bonded indebtedness sufficiently to meet the situation herein set forth so that it may issue bonds for general corporate purposes to the extent that is necessary to restore the surplus so that it will amount to approximately twenty-five per cent of its annual tax levy in order to make possible the financing of the city on the basis of the revenues which were contemplated at the time the rates of taxation were fixed, and in order to make possible the construction work on permanent public improvements which will be much needed in the immediate future; be it further

Resolved, That the said General Assembly be and it is hereby asked to enact such legislation as will enable the City of Chicago to issue bonds to the extent of $10,000,000 without a referendum, of which $5,000,000 may be issued in the year 1919 and $5,000,000 may be issued in the year 1920, so that the said surplus in the general corporate fund may be restored and the outstanding judgments against the city may be met and the city placed in such financial condition that it will not be compelled to draw on its current revenues in order to meet past obligations; and be it further

Resolved, That the Corporation Counsel be and he is hereby directed to draft the necessary bills to accomplish the results aimed at herein, under the direction of the city's fiscal officers, and to take steps to have the same introduced in the General Assembly and cooperate with other officers of the city and the members of the Legislature in securing the legislation aforsaid.

Ald. Woodhull moved to adopt the foregoing resolution.

Ald. Richert moved to refer said resolution to the Committee on Finance.

The motion to refer prevailed.

Ald. Schwartz presented the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The revenue of the City of Chicago has been reduced by the losses derived from saloon licenses and other sources; and

WHEREAS, The necessary expenditures of the City for police, fire and health protection and for the other functions of the municipality have greatly increased by the growth of the City, by additions to its activities, by increase in the cost of material and by justifiable increases in salaries and wages, which expenditures according to the Provisional Budget adopted by the City Council amount approximately to $33,000,000.00; and

WHEREAS, This necessitates a tax rate of $2.35 on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of property; therefore be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Chicago do petition the State Ligislature for a tax rate of $2.35 on each one hundred dollars of the assessed valuation of property, and that the Chairman of the Finance Committee with such members of the City Council as he may appoint constitute a committee to present this resolution to the State Legislature and make proper arguments therefor.

Ald. Schwartz moved to adopt the foregoing resolution.

Ald. Capitain thereupon presented the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The City of Chicago will be deprived of large revenues by the loss of the saloon license fees; and

WHEREAS, Wages, salaries and supplies have materially increased; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Chicago petition the State Legislature to pass such legislation as will give the City of Chicago a $2.00 tax rate in place of the existing tax rate of $1.20, and that enabling legislation be granted the City of Chicago which will increase its licensing powers.

Ald. Capitain moved to substitute said resolution for the resolution presented by Ald. Schwartz.

Ald. Richert presented the following resolution:

WHEREAS, The estimate of the needs of all departments as provided by the City Council is $33,568,924.09; and

WHEREAS, The civic bodies of Chicago recommend a total of $28,085,424.34 for the same activities (exclusive of the sum of $751,672.75 to be derived from saloon license fees); therefore, be it

Resolved, That the excess of $4,731,827.00 over the civic bodies' total of $28,085,424.34 be submitted as a supplementary item to be provided for by additional revenue either from taxes, miscellaneous revenue or special revenue, and that the $2 00 rate (on each $100.00 of the assessed valuation of property) be the one contained in the Bill to be presented to the Legislature and it is hereby approved.

"WHEREAS, It has been determined that the current revenues have been found inadequate to properly conduct the affairs of the City of Chicago, and

"Resolved, That the Chicago Federation of Labor be requested to authorize representatives of that body and of Labor Unions whose members are employed Street Railways: in the Matter of an Increase in the Rate of Fare.

The Mayor submitted the following communication, which was, together with the communication transmitted therewith, ordered published and referred to the Committee on Local Transportation:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CHICAGO, March 10, 1919.

To the Honorable the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—In the matter of the application of the Chicago Surface Lines for an increase in rates of fare from 5 cents to 7 cents, on March 8, 1919, I sent to Governor Lowden a communication, a copy of which is attached hereto; and on the same day I sent a communication to the same effect to each member of the General Assembly.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WM. HALE THOMPSON,
Mayor.

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CHICAGO, March 8, 1919.

To His Excellency, Frank O. Lowden, Governor of the State of Illinois, Executive Mansion, Springfield:

MY DEAR GOVERNOR — Last November the Chicago Surface Lines applied to the State Public Utilities Commission for an increase in rate of fare, from 5 cents to 7 cents. The City on behalf of itself and the rate-payers has resisted such increase. There has been a full hearing on such application before the Commission which for some time past has had, and still has, the matter under advisement.

On March 5th and 6th the Chicago newspapers contained statements purporting to have been made by certain persons claiming to represent the Chicago Association of Commerce. The hand in these interviews was a pretended regard for the public; but the voice was the voice of the traction interests. In my opinion, it was an attempt to intimidate the Commission and influence their decision.

The statement is made in these interviews that a committee claiming to represent the Association of Commerce intends to go before the Public Utilities Commission next Monday and, in substance, point out to the Commission what ought to be done.

These interviews seem to have originated from or through the instrumentality of H. H. Merrick, President of the Association of Commerce.

I am sure that the great majority of the Association of Commerce do not know, and, if they did know, that they would not approve what Mr. Merrick is attempting to do in the interest of the Chicago Surface Lines and the holders of their securities, at the expense of the public and in direct violation of the terms of the contract ordinances of 1907.

Mr. Merrick is vice-president of a banking concern in Chicago, and before his statements are accepted as the unbiased utterance of a disinterested party, it might be well to inquire whether he is speaking in behalf of the public or for the holders of traction stocks and bonds.

It will be remembered that on August 22, 1918, the City Council passed over my veto a new traction ordinance; but the People on referendum rejected said ordinance by a majority of 33,652 votes.

During the campaign last fall, in the public press and on the billboards and by literature, strong representations were made that, solely in the interest of the public, the Association of Commerce urged the People to approve such ordinance. On the hearing before the State Public Utilities Commission, Robert B. Beach, the Business Manager of the Chicago Association of Commerce, testified that such publicity campaign was "handled by the Citizens' Committee, which was created by the Association of Commerce"; that the expense thereof was $71,026.88; that he had no record of the receipts of the Citizens' Committee, but that he could state from memory, that the amount paid by the Surface Lines was $9,250.

The manner in which the Association of Commerce is "committed" on such important matters as this, is indicated by Mr. Beach's testimony on March 5, 1919, before the State Senate Committee, officially reported as follows:

"MR. DENVIR: You say the Association of Commerce consisted of about six thousand members?

"MR. BEACH: Yes, sir.

"MR. DENVIR: Have you any way of ascertaining how many members were present when this resolution was passed?

"MR. BEACH: I would say probably very few.

"MR. DENVIR: Was there what you would call a quorum present at that meeting?

"MR. BEACH: Of the entire association?

"MR. DENVIR: Yes.

"MR. BEACH: By no means.

"MR. DENVIR: How many was there, will you tell us?

"MR. BEACH: I would say probably a committee of about twenty.

"MR. DENVIR: Does that twenty decide the matters of such great moment as this?

"MR. BEACH: It does.

* * * * *

"MR. GLACKIN: Is the gas company a member of the Association of Commerce?

"MR. BEACH: It is, yes.

"MR. GLACKIN: Is the traction company a member of the Association of Commerce?

"MR. BEACH: Yes, sir.

"MR. GLACKIN: Is the elevated railroad a member of the Association of Commerce?

"MR. BEACH: It is, yes."

Under the ordinances of 1907 there has been built up a capital or property account amounting to more than $156,000,000. In the ordinance of August 22, 1918, which was rejected by the People, as above stated, the Chicago Surface Lines were valued at the full amount of this capital or property account; and on their application for an increase in rates of fare the Surface Lines are asking the Public Utilities Commission to accept the full amount of such capital or property account as the true value of their properties. Yet, in 1917, before the Cook County Board of Review, Colonel E. R. Bliss, acting on behalf of the Companies, made the following representations, referring to this capital or property account:

"COLONEL BLISS: Now, while these gentlemen here talk about this representing the value of the property today, you must deduct the very first item of $55,775,000.

"MR. LITZINGER (Member of Board of Review): Why?

"COLONEL BLISS: Because there is no property to represent it practically today.

* * * * *

"COLONEL BLISS: So that there is at least or about fifty-five million dollars, and these other items, there is at least $85,000,000 or $90,000,000 that is not represented by any property at all, and it is in this capital account.

"MR. LITZINGER: How much did you say?

"COLONEL BLISS: $85,000,000 to $90,000,000, and all these things, if you read the ordinance and see exactly what this agreement was, you will understand what I mean. It can never be contended for a moment that this capital account represents the value of anything."

The Companies need no increase in rates of fare to enable them to pay operating expenses, including maintenance and repairs, and renewals and depreciation and to meet their interest charges. Speaking in round numbers, they claim that their indebtedness is $141,000,000. Five per cent interest on this is $7,050,000. By their own figures, after paying all expenses, including 6 per cent of their gross receipts for maintenance and repairs, 8 per cent of their gross receipts for renewals and depreciation (which is much more than enough since they now have $9,000,000 on hand in that fund) the 5 cent fare will produce for the year ending July 31, 1919, net earnings of $6,800,000. But such net earnings are arrived at by estimating that there will be 27,000,000 less rides in 1919 than in 1917. There is no basis for this assumption. On the contrary, in all probability there will be more rides in 1919 than in 1917, if the Companies operate their Street Railways in good faith, with a view to serving the public, and not with the idea of creating a situation that will warrant an increase in rates of fare. But if there are only as many rides in 1919 as in 1917, the 5 cent fare will produce net earnings of $8,150,000. (By 1917 and 1919 I mean the years ending July 31, 1917, and July 31, 1919, respectively.) This makes $1,100,000 more than enough to pay the interest charges on the full amount of the indebtedness and also makes $350,000 more than 5 per cent of the entire capital or property account of $156,000,000.

But as we have seen, such capital or property account is inflated more than $55,000,000; and the $141,000,000 of indebtedness includes more than $40,000,000 of indebtedness of the old companies incurred prior to the passage and acceptance of the 1907 ordinances. In short, in 1907 the Companies turned in all their properties at $55,775,000 and now they want interest on the securities that were issued against such properties before they were so turned in.

In this letter I can give only a meager outline of the situation. I am informed that heretofore there has been sent to you a copy of the "Amended Suggestions on behalf of the City of Chicago and the Rate-payers" filed with the Public Utilities Commission by Counsel for the City, in which you will find the situation more fully elaborated. If such Amended Suggestions have not reached you, I will see that one is sent you on request.

Aside from the foregoing considerations, it seems to me that the Companies ought to be compelled to live up to their contract obligations. The 1907 ordinances were duly passed by the City Council and approved by the People and accepted by the Companies with their eyes open. About all that these ordinances contain in the interest of the street car passengers are the undertakings by the Companies to give first-class service for 5 cent fares. The ordinances contain a multitude of provisions in the interest of the Companies. They have now had all the benefits of these ordinances for more than twelve years and they are still insisting upon having such benefits throughout the terms of the ordinances, viz.: until February 1, 1927. But they are asking that the ordinances, which concededly constitute valid contracts, be changed by agreement, so as to enable them to increase the fares. They have applied to the City Council to agree to such change and the City Council has refused to grant their request. Now they are before the State Public Utilities Commission, asking that Body, on behalf of the State, to agree to a change in the contracts by increasing the rates of fare.

Even if the State or the State Public Utilities Commission has the power to consent to such change (which I do not concede) I do not think such consent should be given; especially in view of the fact that the Companies made their contracts directly with the People; and furthermore, only the City Council has the power to enter into a complete readjustment with the Companies, if that should be deemed necessary or advisable.

And where, as here, a Public Utility has in consequence of a referendum vote contracted directly with the People themselves, it seems to me that the contract ought not to be changed in so essential a part as the established rate of fare without the approval of the People on a like referendum vote.

In my view, the People of Chicago are primarily interested in this question and the City Council or the State Public Utilities Commission, in considering it, are acting only as agents for such People; and they ought not to do what their principals do not want them to do; and I am sure that the great majority of the People of Chicago are intensely opposed to granting an increase in rates of fare to the Chicago Surface Lines.

I have discussed this question with the People of Chicago, and I intend to continue to do so; and I am writing you this letter, so as to bring the situation to your attention, with a view to asking you, so far as you can do so consistently with your public duty, to co-operate with me in compelling the Chicago Surface Lines to live up to and abide by their contracts.

The seriousness of the application for an increase in fares appears from the fact that a 2-cent increase would divert from the pockets of the street car passengers to the treasury of the companies about $14,000,000 annually, which is more than $1,160,000 a month and more than $38,350 a day.

I am addressing this letter to you because the claim is made that the Legislature by the Public Utilities Act has taken away from the City and vested in the State the power to consent or refuse to consent to changes in the rates of fare fixed by the contract-ordinances. While I do not concur in that view, yet I am persuaded that the interest of the people will be subserved if you as Chief Executive of the State concur with me as Chief Executive of the City in opposing such change.

I am also writing to each member of the Illinois General Assembly, asking them for their co-operation.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WM. HALE THOMPSON,
Mayor.

The following are the reports recommended for publication in the foregoing report:

DEPARTMENT OF PUBLIC SERVICE,
CHICAGO, March 6, 1919.

Mr. Fred W. Abele, Supervisor of Gas and Electricity, Department of Public Service, City of Chicago:

INVESTIGATION OF LIGHT OIL PLANT,
PEOPLES GAS LIGHT & COKE CO.

DEAR SIR:

In accordance with your request, you will please note herewith results of findings of investigation of the Light Oil Plant of the Peoples Gas Light & Coke Company, located at W. 35th street and South Kilpatrick avenue, for the purpose of determining the cause of the offensive odors recently noted in the southwest section of this city.

At the Refining Plant, called "Pure Light Oil Plant", the Gas Company refines and washes the light oils obtained from stripping and scrubbing the illuminating gas of its light oil vapors. These light oils at the Refining Plant after the first distillation are treated with a solution of strong sulphuric acid and then with dilute caustic soda solution for the purpose of removing certain light oil compounds which cannot be separated from the light oil by distillation.

In the process of washing with sulphuric acid a heavy dark brown resinous mass is formed in the bottom of the washers, which is led through a drain into a sump hole in the yard of the plant. This mass being very heavy and resinous, similar to very heavy tar, naturally does not drain away readily, especially in cold weather. It was found on investigation that the odor complained of in this section of the City was due to the fact that certain light oil compounds of low boiling point escaped into the atmosphere when the acid sludge from the washing process was treated with live steam with the object of causing this material to drain more readily into the sump hole.

The composition of these vapors are very probably benzol, and certain of the light phenol or carbolic acid compounds which are obtained from the light oil by treatment with sulphuric acid. Such vapors, while not toxic in dilute proportions in the air, nevertheless possess a very disagreeable and pungent odor.

In order that this trouble may not recur proper care must be exercised by the Gas Company in the treatment of this sludge with steam in order to prevent any of the free light oil vapors from escaping into the air and giving rise to objectionable odors.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) C. C. HOTCHKISS,
Chief Gas Tester.

DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH,
CHICAGO, January 25, 1919.

The Honorable Mayor and Council, City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—Respecting your instructions to make an investigation of the odor nuisance in the Lawndale district, occurring on the 18th and 19th inst., I respectfully submit the following report:

Extent of area affected:

The nuisance complained of, so far as I have been able to learn, was a marked one over the area extending from Western avenue to the city limits and between 18th street on the north and the Ogden ditch on the south. This area includes about six square miles. About two-thirds of this district is improved with dwellings, especially the north end.

Time of occurrence:

From the evidence given by those who experienced the odors, it seems to have prevailed from about the early evening of Saturday, the 18th, perhaps from 7 o'clock, through the night, at least with considerable severity until 2 o'clock in the morning. The evidence of the prevalence of the odors indicates that it came with a southwest wind and varied in intensity from time to time and in various locations, probably as the wind varied. There is some evidence of occasional outbursts of odor at and after daylight on Sunday morning.

Characteristics of the nuisance:

The nuisance consisted in a widely distributed pungent fume or odor described by pretty nearly every observer as like the odor of illuminating gas. It appears, however, to have possessed pungent qualities so as to be irritating to the nose and throat and exceedingly disagreeable. It is also described by many witnesses as possesing nauseating qualities so that they were made sick at the stomach, and in a few instances at least persons were caused to vomit. The disagreeable effects were first noticed by people on the street, but on going into the houses they found the same conditions prevalent within the building. In many cases the children were taken to the cellars, where there seemed to be much less prevalence of the objectionable odors. Canary birds were affected and in some instances killed, and chickens were also affected by the odors and some are said to have died.

Gas Company's Plant:

As the nuisance seemed to be identified as coming from illuminating gas and no leaks were found in the neighborhood, very little special concentration of the nuisance having occurred, attention was directed to the Gas Company's plant just outside the city limits in Cicero, the location being just east of Cicero avenue and about 38th street south.

This plant was visited by inspectors of the Sanitary Bureau, and on the morning of the 23rd by Chief Sanitary Inspector Ball in company with Superintendent Lovell of the Peoples Gas Co. This installation is known as the light oil plant of the Gas Company and is used in the purification of oils collected in the process of manufacture, being substantially the same oils as were formerly collected from condensation in the mains and called drip oil. The modern process of production of gas allows the condensation and collection of these oils at the production plants. The oil is brought in tank cars, from them is pumped into covered storage tanks, thence into a distillation building where in a number of small tanks the lighter oils are distilled off. These oils may be separated according to their distillation point, but at present the manufacture of motor oil does not require much separation of the products. The resulting light distillates are still discolored and the product is then treated with sulphuric acid to remove this discoloration and produce a transparent white oil. This process is carried on in a smaller building containing three tanks. The tanks are arranged with hopper bottoms, into which are precipitated the heavy oils as the result of this treatment. This oil is drawn off from the bottom of the tanks until the lighter oil shows in the stream, when the process is discontinued. The material remaining in the tanks is then treated with a weak solution of caustic soda to render it neutral or alkaline in character, and the ordinary result is a separation by gravity of the causic water in the bottom of the tank from the oil which collects at the top. This caustic water is then drawn off to an outside storage tank of 5000 gallons capacity, where the pressure is reduced to atmospheric pressure, previous operations all being performed under somewhat increased pressure.

This storage tank is connected to a tile pipe line discharging into an open concrete sump of about twice the capacity of the tank. It is said that the tank is drawn off into this sump about once in a week or ten days, and the material is discharged less frequently from the concrete sump into the continuation of the pipe line flowing into the Ogden ditch. The caustic water still carries on its top some of the oily deposit and therefore flows out from the concrete sump under baffle plates, most of the oil being collected in this manner, and the residue flowing into the Ogden ditch is said ordinarily to consist of caustic water only.

The Gas Company officials explained that since the cold weather came on, difficulty has been experienced with the separation of the water and oils in the iron sedimentation tank and that the tank had not been discharged for a longer period than usual through the sump into the stream.

The Gas Company officials also state that at the close of work on Friday evening, the 17th, about 5:30 o'clock or so, one of their employees opened the outlet valve from the iron tank to its full capacity, so that the contents of this tank were carried into the concrete chamber and thence into the Ogden ditch. How long this process continued after the tank was emptied seems to be a matter of doubt.

I am advised that the surface of the sluggish stream, about 50 feet in width at this point, was covered with ice and that this material was discharged below the icy surface. At a later hour on Friday night or during Saturday morning, this ice broke up owing to the continued thaw, and flowed down the stream to the eastward, carrying with it the contents of the tank and such other material as may have been allowed to flow out from the plant. About 600 feet from the point where it entered the stream is found the outlet of a large sewer, the temperature of which is much warmer than that of the stream.

The Gas Company officials state that the oily contents of the sedimentation tank did not separate, allowing the water to flow out and the lighter oil to follow, but that through some process of mixing the stream flowed out as an emulsion of oil and water and in such form that when cooled in the icy waters of the ditch it still did not allow the gas to be given off to any marked extent. This is supported by the personal observation of Chief Inspector Ball as late as Thursday morning. Globules of gassy material rose to the surface, spreading over it as oil, which he personally observed. It is my opinion that the nuisance was caused by the liberation of gas from this oil which was probably hastened by change of temperature experienced when this discharge met the warmer waters of the sewer fouled stream.

We cannot, however, fail to escape the conclusion that after the caustic water and oils escaped from the tank, they were followed, by reason of some open valve or connection, by some considerable quantity at least of lighter oils of more volatile character which contaminated the atmosphere and caused the complaints referred to above.

The opinion seems to be justified that the material lost was of considerable value to the Gas Company and would not be wantonly discharged or wasted by them. The precautions which they have taken to prevent a recurrence of the situation are as follows:

A blind washer has been placed on the outlet valve of this tank, which must be removed before the tank is discharged in the future. The outlet of the concrete sump, formerly the open end of the 24-inch tile pipe, has now been closed and a 6-inch valve installed at this location. A third means of preventing discharge into the stream was in process of construction in the form of a large gate valve in the tile drain outlet. These precautions will interpose two gate valves between the sedimentation tank and the stream.

Respectfully,

(Signed) JOHN DILL ROBERTSON,
Commissioner of Health.

PART SIX.

CONCERNING THE REDISTRICTING OF THE CITY INTO WARDS.

SECTION 1. City to Have Fifty Wards.) The City of Chicago shall be divided into fifty wards. In the formation of wards the population of each shall be as nearly equal as practicable and each shall be composed of contiguous and compact territory.

SECTION 2. Additional Territory to be Annexed to Existing Wards.) Whenever territory is annexed to the city, the City Council shall by ordinance declare it a part of the ward or wards which it adjoins; provided, that at any time after such territory is annexed the City Council may provide for the redistricting of the city in accordance with the provisions of this Act.

SECTION 3. City to be Redistricted After Adoption of This Act.) Within three months after the adoption of this Act by the voters it shall be the duty of the City Council to pass an ordinance redistricting the city into fifty wards in accordance with the provisions of this Act. Such redistricting of the city shall apply to the election of Aldermen at the first general election provided for in this Act and thereafter until the city is again redistricted as herein provided for, but shall not apply to any election of Aldermen prior to such first general election.

SECTION 4. When Redistricting Ordinance Takes Effect—Substitute Ordinance May Be Submitted.) No such redistricting ordinance shall take effect until the expiration of 15 days after its passage. If within such 15 days one-fifth or more of the Aldermen elected, who did not vote to pass such redistricting ordinance, file with the City Clerk a proposed substitute ordinance redistricting the city in accordance with the provisions of this Act together with a petition signed by them demanding that the question of the adoption of the redistricting ordinance passed by the City Council, together with the question of the adoption of such substitute ordinance, be submitted to the voters, then such redistricting ordinance passed by the City Council shall not go into effect until the question of its adoption shall have been submitted to a popular vote; provided, that no Alderman shall have the right to sign more than one such petition. Upon the expiration of such 15 days the City Clerk shall promptly certify to the Board of Election Commissioners of the City of Chicago the ordinance passed by the City Council and such substitute ordinance or ordinances and petition or petitions, and it shall thereupon be the duty of the Board of Election Commissioners to submit the ordinances so certified to a popular vote at the next general, municipal, or special election, to be held in and for the entire city not less than 40 days after the passage of such redistricting ordinance by the City Council.

SECTION 5. Failure of Council to Act—One-Fifth of the Aldermen May Submit Redistricting Ordinance.) If the City Council shall fail at any time to pass a redistricting ordinance as required herein, one-fifth or more of the Aldermen elected shall have the right to file with the City Clerk, not less than 40 days before the date of holding any general, municipal, or special election, to be held in and for the entire city, an ordinance redistricting the city in accordance with the provisions of this Act, together with a petition signed by them demanding that such ordinance be submitted to the legal voters at the next such election in and for the entire city to be held not less than 40 days after the filing of such ordinance and petition; provided, that no Alderman shall have the right to sign more than one such petition. Upon the expiration of the time for filing any such ordinance the City Clerk shall promptly certify to the Board of Election Commissioners of the City of Chicago any ordinance or ordinances, together with any petition or petitions, so filed and thereupon it shall be the duty of the Board of Election Commissioners to submit such ordinance or ordinances to a popular vote at the election specified in such petition or petitions; provided, that if, after the filing of any such ordinance and petition and not less than 40 days prior to such election, the City Council shall pass an ordinance redistricting the city, then the question of the adoption of any ordinance or ordinances filed with the City Clerk in accordance with the provisions of this section shall not be submitted to a popular vote. However, after such action by the City Council, a substitute ordinance or ordinances may be proposed in the manner provided in Section 4 hereof.

SECTION 6. Redistricting Ordinance Submitted—Form of Ballot.) If the question of the adoption of one of two or more redistricting ordinances is submitted to the voters at any election, the ballots used for the submission of such propositions shall, in addition to the other requirements of law, conform substantially to the following requirements:

For the adoption of an ordinance for the redistricting of the City of Chicago proposed by Aldermen (here insert names of the Aldermen signing the petition).

Whenever the question of the adoption of but one redistricting ordinance shall be submitted to the voters, the form of the ballot shall be substantially as follows:

Shall the ordinance proposed by Aldermen (here insert the names of the Aldermen signing the petition) be adopted?	Yes No

(4) All the propositions shall be printed in uniform type.

SECTION 7. Redistricting Ordinance Submitted—When Approved and in Effect.) If the question of the adoption of one of two or more redistricting ordinances is submitted to the voters at any election, the ordinance for which the highest number of votes is cast shall be deemed approved and shall thereupon be in force and effect. If the question of the adoption of but one such ordinance is submitted at any election and a majority of the votes cast thereon are for the adoption of such ordinance, it shall thereupon be in force and effect; otherwise such ordinance shall not go into effect.

SECTION 8. Election and Ballot Laws to Apply Where Consistent Herewith.) All election and ballot laws in force in the City of Chicago governing the submission of propositions to a popular vote or applicable thereto and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act shall apply to and govern the submission of any propositions herein provided for.

SECTION 9. Redistricting in 1931 and Decennially thereafter.) On or before the first day of December, 1931, and every ten years thereafter, the City Council shall by ordinance redistrict the city on the basis of the national census of the preceding year. If this Act shall fail to be adopted at the election aforesaid by a majority of the legal voters of the City of Chicago voting thereon, the City Council of the City of Chicago may by ordinance direct that the question of the adoption of this Act be again submitted to such legal voters at any such general, municipal, or special election in and for the entire city to be held not less than thirty days from and after the passage of such ordinance, and not less than 15 months prior to the expiration of the term of the Mayor in office at the time of the passage of such ordinance. The City Clerk of the City of Chicago shall promptly certify the passage of such ordinance to the Board of Election Commissioners of the City of Chicago, and it shall thereupon be the duty of said Board of Election Commissioners to submit the question of the adoption of this Act to such legal voters at such election.

If this Act shall fail to be adopted at the election referred to in Paragraph 2 of this section by a majority of the legal voters voting thereon, the question of the adoption of this Act may also again be submitted to the legal voters of the City of Chicago, at any general, municipal, or special election, to be held in and for the entire city not less than forty days from and after the filing of the petition hereinafter provided for, and not less than 15 months prior to the expiration of the term of the Mayor in office at the time of filing such petition, in the following manner: A petition signed by legal voters of the city equal in number to at least five per cent of the legal voters of the city voting at the last preceding election for mayor, demanding the submission of the question of the adoption of this Act, may be filed with said Board of Election Commissioners and it shall thereupon be the duty of said Board of Election Commissioners to submit the question of the adoption of this Act to such legal voters at the election specified in said petition.

If this Act shall fail to be adopted, at any time at which it is submitted under the requirements of this section, by a majority of the legal voters of the City of Chicago voting thereon, then it may be resubmitted from time to time by ordinance or petition as above provided.

The said Board of Election Commissioners shall give notice of any election provided for in this section by publishing a notice thereof, not less than twenty days prior to such election, in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Chicago.

The ballot to be used at such election shall be in substantially the following form:

SECTION 6. Candidate Receiving Majority Elected—Supplementary Elections.) The candidate receiving a majority of the votes cast for an office at any general or special election shall be declared elected. (6) Said ballots shall be prepared in as many series as there are candidates in the office division or group in which there are the most names; the ballots of the first series shall contain all the names of the candidates for each office division or group to be filled, one immediately following the other in alphabetical order according to their surnames; the ballots of the second series shall be like those of the first series, and the names of the candidates in the second series shall be arranged in the same order as those of the first series, except that the name appearing first in the list of candidates for each office division or group in said first series shall, in said second series, be printed after all the other names in the list of candidates for such office division or group; the ballots of the third series shall be like those of the second series, and the names of the candidates in the third series shall be arranged in the same order as those of the second series, except that the name appearing first in the list of candidates for each office division or group in said second series shall, in said third series, be printed after all the other names in the list of candidates for such office division or group; and so on successively, the name at the top of any list of candidates for each office division or group in any series being placed at the bottom of the respective lists of candidates for such office division or group in each succeeding series, and the name next to the top name in any list of candidates for each office division or group being successively advanced to the top of the list of any succeeding series, until the name of each candidate for each office division or group shall appear at the head of the list of candidates for such office division or group.

Every precinct in such political division shall be allotted a different series of ballots unless there are more precincts in such political division than there are series of ballots printed for such political division. The first precinct of each political division shall be allotted the first series of ballots, the second precinct of such political division the second series, and so on successively until the entire series of ballots shall have been exhausted, whereupon the next precinct of such political division shall be allotted the first series of ballots, and so on in rotation until all the precincts of such political division shall have been supplied with the requisite number of ballots; provided, however, that in the event that there are more series of ballots than there are precincts in any one political division, then the ballots for such political division shall be so distributed in said political division that an equal number of each series of ballots as nearly as possible shall be allotted to such political division, irrespective of the number of precincts in such political division.

Such challenger and watcher shall have the same powers and privileges as a challenger and watcher under the election laws of this State applicable to Chicago. No political party shall have the right to keep any challenger or watcher at any polling place at any election held under the provisions of this Act unless candidates for some office other than those covered by this Act are to be voted for at the same time.

SECTION 14. Certificate of Election.) No certificate of election shall be given to any candidate who shall be declared elected at any municipal election until after the date fixed by this Act for the holding of the supplementary municipal election herein provided for.

SECTION 15. Election Laws Apply When Consistent Herewith.) All laws in force in the City of Chicago governing elections for municipal offices or applicable thereto and not inconsistent with the provisions of this Act, shall apply to and govern all elections held under the terms of this Act.

SECTION 2. Adoption of this Act.) This Act shall not be in force in the City of Chicago until the question of its adoption shall first have been submitted to the legal voters of the City of Chicago and approved by a majority of those voting thereon.

The City Clerk of the City of Chicago shall promptly certify the passage of such ordinance to the Board of Election Commissioners of the City of Chicago and it shall thereupon be the duty of said Board of Election Commissioners to submit the question of the adoption of this Act to such legal voters at such election.

If this Act shall fail to be adopted at the election referred to in Paragraph Two of this section by a majority of the legal voters voting thereon, the question of the adoption of this Act may also again be submitted to the legal voters of the City of Chicago, at any general, municipal or special election in and for the entire city to be held not less than forty days from and after the filing of the petition hereinafter provided for, in the following manner: A petition signed by legal voters of the city equal in number to at least five per cent of the legal voters of the city voting at the last preceding election for Mayor, demanding the submission of the question of the adoption of this Act, may be filed with said Board of Election Commissioners and it shall thereupon be the duty of said Board of Election Commissioners to submit the question of the adoption of this Act to such legal voters at the election specified in said petition.

If this Act shall fail to be adopted, at any time at which it is submitted under the requirements of this section, by a majority of the legal voters of the City of Chicago voting thereon, then it may be resubmitted from time to time by ordinance or petition, as above provided.

The said Board of Election Commissioners shall give notice of any election provided for in this section by publishing a notice thereof, not less than twenty days prior to such election, in at least one newspaper of general circulation published in the City of Chicago.

GENTLEMEN—The Federal Director of the U. S. Employment Service has requested free temporary use of a small amount of storage space in the city lodging house at 160 North Union street for the storage of office furniture and equipment.

Because of the failure of Congress to pass the urgent deficiency bill carrying certain appropriations it has become necessary to close a number of the federal employment branches, but as an appropriation is expected in the near future the department does not wish to dispose of its equipment at the present time.

We enclose form of order to authorize the Comptroller to grant the necessary permit for the use of such lodging house or other space as he shall find more available.

As the need for space is immediate it is respectfully suggested that said order be passed at once without reference to a committee.

REPORTS AND COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITY OFFICERS.

Sale of Liquor to Discharged Soldiers and Sailors in Uniform.

The Mayor submitted the following communication, which was, together with the communication transmitted therewith, referred to the Committee on Home Defense:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CHICAGO, March 24, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I have the honor to transmit herewith a communication from Major-General Leonard Wood in command of the Central Department of the War Department in reference to the sale of liquor to men in the uniform of the United States, most of them discharged soldiers.

I have informed General Wood that the matter would be brought to the attention of your Honorable Body with the request that it be referred to an appropriate committee for early consideration and report.

Respectfully yours,

(Signed) WM. HALE THOMPSON,
Mayor.

The following communication was submitted with the foregoing communication:

CHICAGO, March 13, 1919.

Hon. William Hale Thompson, Mayor, City of Chicago, Chicago, Illinois:

DEAR SIR—In our conference yesterday, I invited your attention to the sale of liquor to men in the uniform of the United States—most of them discharged soldiers—and requested that you, as mayor of the city, take the steps necessary to stop the sale of intoxicating liquor, in any form, to men in the United States uniform.

You requested me to bring the matter to your attention officially, which I hereby do, and request that the city authorities take steps to immediately and effectively stop the sale of all intoxicating liquor to men in uniform.

Such action on the part of the city authorities will be of greatest assistance in dealing with the question of discharged men, and it will also be of greatest value in protecting not only the men, but the uniform. It is now seen in places where it should not be seen.

Very respectfully,

(Signed) LEONARD WOOD,
Major Gen. Comdg.

Dept. of Police: in Re Employment of Patrolmen To Fill Vacancies.

The Mayor submitted the following communication, which was referred to the Committee on Finance with instructions to make a report thereon at the next succeeding regular meeting:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CHICAGO, March 24, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—The Department of Police is handicapped through a shortage of men at a time when existing conditions demand that the maximum strength of the force should be at the service of the people of this City.

Protection to life and property is the first reason for maintaining a government and levying taxes.

There are at present 230 bona fide vacancies in the rank of patrolman. These vacancies have occurred through death, retirement, resignation or discharge since January 12, 1918, when the last appointments were made and do not include 122 men now on military leaves of absence, making a total existing shortage of men needed for patrol duty of 352, or approximately 10 per cent of the full quota.

At the request of your Committee on Finance, the General Superintendent of Police is not, and has not been filling the vacancies above noted due to the necessity of curtailing expenditures. The expenditure involved, however, in this item is within the estimates authorized by your honorable body and under which the City Government is at present operating.

I am advised by the Civil Service Commission that of the first 230 men on the eligble list for patrolmen in the Police Department, 161 are returned soldiers, sailors and marines seeking employment.

I, therefore, recommend to your honorable body that the General Superintendent of Police be authorized and instructed to make requisition upon the Civil Service Commisson for the necessary patrolmen to fill actual vacancies, which do not include the positions of men on military leave who will be restored to their former positions immediately upon their discharge from the military service.

Your favorable action upon this recommendation will, first, give to the citizens some additional police protection; second, furnish needed employment to men who have earned the right to it; third, help the morale of the Police Department by adding to it a percentage of men who by their recent army experiences have acquired habits of discipline and self-control; and fourth, assist in preventing crime.

In conclusion it is my opinion, that your honorable body with the co-operation of the executive and administrative officers of the City, should earnestly seek to develop ways and means whereby the ranks of both the Police and Fire Departments can be adequately increased by the employment of men of military age, qualified by army and navy experience to uphold law and order for the benefit of the people in Chicago's 200 square miles of populated territory.

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) WM. HALE THOMPSON,
Mayor.

Thereupon the Mayor announced that he found it necessary to absent himself during the remainder of the meeting.

Ald. Powers moved that Ald. Richert act as temporary chairman of the meeting during the absence of the Mayor.

The motion prevailed, and Ald. Richert took the chair.

U. S. Liberty Drivers: Granting of Certain "Parking" Privileges.

The Clerk presented the following communication, submitted by the General Superintendent of Police:

OFFICE OF GENERAL SUPERINTENDENT OF POLICE,
CHICAGO, March 21, 1919.

Hon. Wm. Hale Thompson, Mayor, and Members of the City Council:

GENTLEMEN—I transmit herewith communication I have this day received from Dr. J. O. Cobb of the United States Public Health Service, Medical Officer in charge of U. S. Marine Hospital, requesting parking privileges for members of the United States Liberty Drivers, who are engaged in hauling members of the U. S. Army and Navy who were disabled in the late war.

Inasmuch as the privilege he requests is prohibited by ordinances, I am referring the same to you with the request that I be advised what action you desire to have taken in the matter.

Respectfully,

(Signed) JNO. J. GARRITY,
General Superintendent.

The following communication was submitted with the foregoing communication:

TREASURY DEPARTMENT,
PUBLIC HEALTH SERVICE,
CHICAGO, March 19, 1919.

Col. Garrity, Chief of Police, City Hall Bldg., Chicago, Illinois:

SIR—Mrs. Sidney D. Goldenberg, president of the U. S. Liberty Drivers Club, has just referred the status of the U. S. Liberty Drivers to me in connection with discharged army and navy officers and privates. I am writing to you to invite your attention to this fine activity. These ladies have continued and widened the scope of their organization so that it will carry on as long as the government has to take care of the disabled officers and men referred to above.

This hospital (U. S. Marine Hospital, 4141 Clarendon avenue) is at the present time handling large numbers of these men. In a few weeks the second hospital (the so-called Speedway Hospital) just outside of the city limits at Maywood, will be put in operation for the same purpose and the U. S. Liberty Drivers' Club will also be active in connection with that hospital. The Speedway Hospital will have 1,500 patients and there will be quite a number of drivers.

Your attention is especially invited to the fact that these men are discharged from the army and navy and many of them are already in citizen clothes. This information should be given out to your force so that they will understand why these drivers are carrying men in civilian clothes. There are times when the nurses at the hospital accompany these men to theatres and places of amusement which are open to them and this should also be explained. The cars are most often used to take men with amputations and disabled limbs to the manufacturers of artificial limbs, braces, etc., down in the loop. The drivers can sometimes wait, but under other circumstances the driver that takes the case down has to go away and another driver picks them up in which case the car should wait as nearly in front of the building as possible so that the patient will recognize the sign on the car. As men are coming and going all the time they are often strangers to the party taking them out. In some cases the driver will be required to go with the patient into the building. If it happens to be a mental case he will need her assistance.

These cars at all times will have U. S. Liberty Driver signs. These ladies are doing wonderful patriotic work and any assistance that you can give them will be highly appreciated.

Respectfully,

(Signed) J. O. COBB,
Senior Surgeon in Charge.

Ald. A. A. McCormick moved that the request contained in the foregoing communication be granted.

The motion prevailed.

AN ORDINANCE

To provide for a supplemental assessment to pay the estimated deficiency of the cost of work and interest (omitting land to be acquired) for the improvement of a thoroughfare extending from the north curb line, extended from the west, of East Randolph street northward along North Michigan avenue and over the Chicago River, and thence over private property and along Pine street and Lincoln parkway to the center line of East Chicago avenue and the necessary approaches thereto, together with a connecting bridge across the Chicago River, and for the condemnation of lands requisite therefor, in the City of Chicago, County of Cook, and State of Illinois, which improvement was provided for by an ordinance passed therefor on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1914.

Be it ordained by the City Council of the City of Chicago:

SECTION 1. WHEREAS, heretofore, on the 9th day of March, A. D. 1914, the Board of Local Improvements of said City, duly submitted and recommended to the City Council of said City an ordinance for the improvement of a thoroughfare extending from the north curb line, extended from the west, of East Randolph street northward along North Michigan avenue and over the Chicago River, and thence over private property and along Pine street and Lincoln parkway to the center line of East Chicago avenue and necessary approaches thereto, together with a connecting bridge across the Chicago River, and for the condemnation of lands requisite therefor, in the City of Chicago, County of Cook and State of Illinois, together with an estimate of the cost thereof (omitting land to be acquired), amounting to two million, two hundred ninety-eight thousand, two hundred forty-seven dollars ($2,298,247.00), which said ordinance and estimate were on the 23rd day of March, A. D. 1914, duly passed and approved by the said City Council; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, in accordance with said ordinance, proceedings were commenced in the County Court of Cook County, bearing docket number 33202 of said court for condemnation of lands requisite for said improvement and for confirmation of an assessment for the purpose of paying the cost of said improvement, and thereafter a judgment was entered in said cause, which said judgment condemned said lands and awarded as compensation for property so taken and damaged the sum of five million, four hundred twenty-eight thousand, eight hundred eighty-four dollars ($5,428,884.00) and which judgment confirmed assessments for the sum of seven million, seven hundred twenty-seven thousand, one hundred thirty-one dollars ($7,727,131.00), of which last-named amount the sum of five million, four hundred twenty-eight thousand, eight hundred eighty-four dollars ($5,428,884.00), was available to pay the compensation for property taken and damaged, in accordance with the statute in such case made and provided, and the remainder, or two million, two hundred ninety-eight thousand, two hundred forty-seven dollars ($2,298,247.00) was available to pay the cost of construction of said improvement; and

WHEREAS, Thereafter, the City of Chicago duly let contracts for the making of all of said improvement (omitting land to be acquired) and is now constructing the same in compliance with said ordinance as an estimated cost, based on said contracts of seven million, nine hundred twenty-two thousand, five hundred eighty-three dollars ($7,922,583.00) which said sum the contractors or their assigns will be entitled to receive as provided for in said contracts as the said work progresses, together with three hundred ninety-six thousand, one hundred twenty-nine dollars ($396,129.00) which it is estimated will be required to pay the accruing interest thereon, aggregating the sum of eight million, three hundred eighteen thousand, seven hundred twelve dollars ($8,318,712.00); and

WHEREAS, The first assessment levied as aforesaid after deducting therefrom the amounts awarded as compensation for property taken and damaged is insufficient to pay said estimated contract price of seven million, nine hundred twenty-two thousand, five hundred eighty-three dollars ($7,922,583.00) and interest as aforesaid and there exists a deficiency of the cost of work and interest (omitting land to be acquired) of said improvement of six million, twenty thousand, four hundred sixty-five dollars ($6,020,465.00); it is, therefore

The Committee on Public Health submitted the following report:

CHICAGO, March 21, 1919.

To the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Chicago in City Council Assembled:

Your Committee on Public Health, to whom was referred (January 27, 1919, page 1533) a protest against the manner of operation of the Dunbar Drop Forge Co's plant at 5216 West Kinzie street, beg leave to submit the following report of the sub-committee, appointed to investigate the matter, with the recommendation that said report be concurred in:

"CHICAGO, March 21, 1919.

"To the Committee on Public Health, Chicago:

"GENTLEMEN:

"The undersigned, who were appointed on March 13, 1919 as a sub-committee for the purpose of investigating and reporting upon a protest by citizens in the vicinity of the premises occupied by the Dunbar Drop Forge Company, 5216 West Kinzie street, beg to report that on March 17, 1919, they visited the location in question, and found that the premises complained of consisted of a brick foundry, wherein were installed seven trip-hammers; that during the period of our visit only one of the small hammers was in operation, and that the committee found that this smaller hammer produced a vibration in the floor of the premises west of the plant.

"The sub-committee interviewed the residents within the block surrounding the plant and were shown where cement floors had been cracked and plumbing disconnected, alleged to have been caused through the vibrations from the operation of the heavier hammers.

"The Chairman of the sub-committee, Alderman Pretzel, asked the manager in charge of the plant if he would not operate the larger hammer, the belt on which had been disconnected. The manager refused to do this and closed the doors of the factory, and showed no disposition to aid the sub-committee in any way in its investigation.

"The sub-committee are satisfied from their investigation that the foundry as operated on these premises constitutes a nuisance, and respectfully recommends that the Commissioner of Health be directed to take such action, under present ordinances of the City of Chicago, as will result in the abatement of this nuisance."

Respectfully submitted,

(Signed) EDWARD F. CULLERTON,

DEPARTMENT OF GAS AND ELECTRICITY,
BUREAU OF ELECTRICAL INSPECTION,
CHICAGO, March 22, 1919.

Hon. John A. Richert, Chairman Finance Committee:

ATTENTION MAJOR MILES.

DEAR SIR—Regarding ordinance reported by the City Council on Monday, March 10th, covered by Pamphlet No. 963, and referring to changes in Sections 823, 826 and 828 of the Chicago Code, I wish to state that this revision does not meet with the approval of this department for the following reasons:

The real intent of this ordinance is to change the title of what is at present known as "Electrical Construction and Conduit Inspectors" to the title of "Outside Electrical Inspectors", and by so doing make the employes affected eligible to be employed in the Electrical Inspection Bureau.

The position of Electrical Construction and Conduit Inspector was created several years ago to provide inspectors or superintendents to supervise the construction work contracted for by the city and used in connection with the extension of the street lighting system. The former City Electrician who created this division felt that the work should not be handled by the linemen at that time employed, and that men of a somewhat higher class, more skilled in engineering, should be assigned to this work. Accordingly, examinations were held to obtain men who were competent to judge as to whether the particular specifications, under which the new construction work was being carried on, were complied with. This included the examination of the materials used to see that they were up to specifications, and a supervision of the manner in which this work was installed, to see that ducts were laid the proper depth, that other conduit lines were not interfered with, and such similar work.

Electrical Inspectors as employed in the Electrical Inspection Bureau, are chosen solely with reference to their knowledge and ability to determine whether electrical apparatus and installations are safe from a fire and life standpoint. Their work is quite a different character from that carried on by the Electrical Construction and Conduit Inspectors.

Furthermore, at the present time there is no division of outside inspection in the Bureau of Electrical Inspection, both outside and inside inspections being handled by the men assigned to the several districts, and even if the ordinance referred to was passed, there will be no positions for these men.

The ordinance has been previously passed and was vetoed by the Mayor at my request as the ordinance is particularly objectionable to me, as it by no means increases the efficiency of operation in this department, and if passed, will to considerable measure, interfere with the present efficient arrangement.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WILLIAM G. KEITH,
Commissioner.

CHICAGO, February 21, 1919.

Hon. William Hale Thompson, Mayor; Hon. Eugene R. Pike, City Comptroller; Hon. Clayton F. Smith, City Treasurer, City of Chicago, Ex officio Trustees of the the Carter H. Harrison Medal Fund:

GENTLEMEN—The Board of Award, acting under Section 5 of Rule 31, of the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Police, consisting of the General Superintendent of Police, First Deputy Superintendent of Police and the members of the Civil Service Commission, hereby submits the following report on the cases considered for awards of merit for acts of bravery performed by members of the Police Department in the saving of life and property during the year 1918, in pursuance with Section 1933 of The Revised Municipal Code of 1911, together with a summary of acts of bravery performed and the corroboration thereof of such witnesses as were available.

1. The case of Detective Sergeant Michael Magner, of the 3rd Precinct, in the unanimous opinion of the Board, merits the highest consideration, and we recommend him first for honorable mention and the award of the Carter H. Harrison Medal.

On June 20, 1918, about 6:00 P. M., a man held up the cashier of the South Side Elevated R. R. at 29th street, and immediately after took refuge in a basement at 19 East 28th street. Detective Sergeant Michael Magner in company of Officer Michael McFadden, now of the 2nd Precinct, were notified of the above robbery and went to the scene of the crime, and upon investigation learned that the man who committed the robbery was hiding in a basement at 19 East 28th street. They immediately went to the basement and entered, and as the man saw them he fired three shots in succession at the officers from a magazine revolver, two of them striking Magner, one taking effect in the right arm, causing a compound fracture of same, and the other taking effect in left cheek. Magner in the meantime fired at the man, the bullet entering the forehead, causing instant death. The man was later identified as George Jackson, 2633 Michigan avenue.

2. John W. Norton, Acting Lieutenant, 20th Precinct, for bravery displayed on February 2nd, 1918, in the capture of George Moran, a notorious ex-convict, and the shooting affray which resulted in the killing of George Raymond, a desperate criminal, at Arthington street and Crawford avenue, in which Acting Lieutenant John W. Norton and Patrick David Keefe were wounded.

Witness: James E. Morrison.

3. Paul Bolum, Detective Sergeant, Detective Bureau, for bravery displayed in the arrest of Carl Mueller. On September 18, 1918, the police engaged in a pistol battle with a man or men trapped in a flat building at 1043 Rush street. Sergeant Bolum, with a number of Detective Sergeants, responded to call armed with rifles. They learned a burglar was barricaded in one of the flats and had exchanged a number of shots with the police. Sergeant Bolum entered the building and became aware that the burglar spoke a foreign language. Sergeant Bolum conversed with the burglar in that language as a ruse, and advanced alone into the room occupied by the burglar, with his hands up, at the command of the robber. The latter said he wanted to talk to a judge. The Sergeant offered to call up a judge for him, and while the burglar was reaching for the receiver, Sergeant Bolum grappled with him, disarmed him and placed him under arrest. The prisoner gave the name of Carl Mueller and had committed several burglaries. The daring act of Sergeant Bolum in advancing alone with hands up into the room toward an armed and desperate character was an exceptional act of bravery and police work worthy of the highest commendation.

Witnesses: Joseph Sullivan, 28th Precinct; A. E. Schartz, 28th Precinct.

4. James M. Kearney, Patrolman, 3rd Precinct, for bravery and good marksmanship displayed in the arrest of James Labetta and Raffaelo Mortaranglo on January 16, 1918, who, together with a third man, had held up and robbed a saloonkeeper. The two men arrested were arrested only after a chase during which both of them were wounded by Officer Kearney. The Board was especially impressed with the marksmanship displayed by Officer Kearney, who fired six shots at the fleeing bandits, all taking effect, at a distance of from 10 to 75 feet.

5. Victor Eck, Patrolman, 28th Precinct, for bravery displayed in the arrest of George Loughren, alias "Oliver Sullivan", a paroled convict with a record. On December 14, 1918, a man ran up to Officer Eck stating a hold-up was being committed in a saloon at Wells and Schiller streets. As Officer Eck entered the saloon with drawn revolver, a robber was covering four men with his gun. At the command of Officer Eck to throw up his hands, the robber threw his gun behind the bar. The Officer had one of the patrons call the wagon while he held the prisoner under cover.

Witnesses: S. J. Smith, 321 West Schiller street; Fred Scharf, 1400 North Wells street.

Also for bravery displayed on June 4, 1918, in the arrest of Max Miller. While passing 1424 North Wells street, Officers Eck and Klatzco heard cries for help and saw three men masked coming out the building at that address. The officers, with drawn revolvers, ordered the robbers to throw up their hands. Max Miller ran and Officer Eck fired, which the robber returned, but he was captured by Officer Eck. Members of the Board of Award.

CHICAGO, February 11, 1919.

Hon. William Hale Thompson, Mayor, Hon. Eugene R. Pike, City Comptroller, Hon. Clayton F. Smith, City Treasurer, City of Chicago,—Ex officio Trustees of Lambert Tree Medal Fund:

GENTLEMEN—The Board of Award, acting under Section 1 of Rule 37 of the rules and regulations of the Fire Department, consisting of the Fire Marshal and Chief of Brigade, the First Assistant Fire Marshal, and the members of the Civil Service Commission, hereby submits the following report on the cases considered for awards of merit for acts of bravery performed by members of the Fire Department in the saving of life and property during the year 1918, in pursuance with Section 1933 of The Revised Municipal Code of 1911, together with a summary of acts of bravery performed and the corroboration thereof of such witnesses as were available.

The case of John P. Stahl, Chief of the 8th Battalion, in the unanimous opinion of the Board, merits the highest consideration, and we recommend him first for Honorable Mention and the award of the Lambert Tree Medal. Mr. Stahl displayed great bravery at a fire at 2001 Loomis street on June 30, 1918. At about 5:00 o'clock A. M. of June 30th an alarm of fire was received. The entire stairway was burning. Chief Stahl tried to get up the stairway. He ran up to the side of the building and could hear people crying for help upstairs. The Hook and Ladder Company had not arrived. Securing a painter's ladder he put it up to the window and got up where he saw a woman in the window on the second floor with a baby in her arms and he then went up the ladder and got her out of the smoke, which was pouring out of the upper window. He got her out, but found he was unable to bring her down in the position she was in with the baby. He held her on one side and had hold of the ladder and then passed the baby down to a man downstairs and then carried the mother down. As soon as he put her down, he returned into the building. Finding no one there he tried to go out in the hall but the fire was going by the door, which he closed, and backed up and went along from one window to another and got in another room near the corner of the building and found two girls there. He got one of them out but could not get to the ladder and had to get out on the window and carry her to where the ladder was and then went down the ladder and gave her to Mr. Wornacki. Going up again he went over to the window the same way and along the side and got the other girl, and in the meantime the ladder was moved over and he handed down the girl, who was 11 years old. After Company 14 arrived, he assisted in further rescues of a woman, two boys and a girl by means of a ladder.

The following are recommended for Honorable Mention:

2. Jerry Cuchna, Truckman, Hook and Ladder Co. 14, for bravery displayed in rescuing two women and two children from the third floor of a burning building at 1040 West 18th street at 8:00 A. M., February 21, 1918. While he was walking on 18th street a man told him there was a fire over on the corner. Cuchna told the man to turn in an alarm and then he entered the building, going to the third floor. Hearing a woman scream he kicked in a door. She told him there were two children in bed. He got the children and carried them down and came back and rescued the lady. He stumbled over a second woman who was overcome and rescued her.

The Committee on Home Defense, to whom had been referred (November 25, 1918, page 1208) a resolution requesting the United States Congress to enact suitable laws to prevent the use by the Pullman Co. of the Taylor Efficiency System for the purpose of "speeding up" employes, submitted a report recommending the adoption of a substitute resolution submitted therewith.

McCormick, Fetzer, Guernsey, Woodhull, Furman, Govier, Klaus, McNichols, Cullerton, Krumdick, Kerner, Novak, Horne, Maypole, Smith, Piotrowski, Touhy, Kavanagh, Powers, Bowler, Fick, Franz, Walker, Ellison, Bauler, Wallace, Roeder, Haderlein, Capitain, Link, Lipps, Pretzel, Kennedy, Hrubec, Byrne, Wm. J. Lynch, Long, Lyle, A. O. Anderson, Toman—47.

The following is said resolution as adopted:

WHEREAS, Labor persistently complains because of the operation of the Taylor Efficiency System and similar systems for speeding up employes, and claims that said systems regard the workman as a soulless, nerveless machine to be "speeded up" to its maximum pitch and capacity when such human machine fails to function to the satisfaction of exploiting employers and to be ruthlessly cast aside to make room for a new machine and automaton in the person of a fresh workman, the latter to be again made subject to the "speeding up" process with the same detrimental result upon his body, nerves and mind; and

WHEREAS, The indictment by labor of these "speed-up" systems is such that it should have consideration by Congress, the only body that has full jurisdiction to remedy any evils that may exist; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Chicago hereby respectfully requests the United States Congress to conduct an investigation of the so-called Taylor Efficiency System and similar systems wherever employed by corporations, with the view of taking such action as may be necessary for the protection of labor.

It is hereby made a special provision of this ordinance that if default is made in the payment of any of the installments of compensation herein provided for, the privileges herein granted may be immediately terminated under any one of the powers reserved to the Mayor or City Council by Section two (2) hereof, and thereupon this ordinance shall become null and void.

REPORTS AND COMMUNICATIONS FROM CITY OFFICERS.

Veto.

Leasing of the Herald Building for Police Purposes.

The Mayor submitted the following veto message:

OFFICE OF THE MAYOR,
CHICAGO, April 2, 1919.

To the Honorable, the City Council of the City of Chicago:

GENTLEMEN—I return herewith, without my approval, an ordinance passed by your Honorable Body at the meeting held March 28, 1919, directing the City Comptroller to purchase for the sum of $200,000 the following described property:

"(Except the east twenty (20) feet) Lot two (2) in Block fifty-five (55) in the original Town of Chicago, in Section nine 9), Township thirty-nine (39) North, in Section nine (9), Township thirty-nine (39) North, ridian, known as the Chicago Herald property, said lot being on the south side of West Washington street west of North La Salle street, 60 feet by 180 feet, more or less, in size, and said building being a six-story with attic and basement structure, of fireproof construction, having substantially 60,000 square feet of floor space and 875,000 cubic feet of cubic contents, and said lease running to June 30, 1979, at an annual ground rental of substantially $12,000.00 without revaluation."; said property to be used for Central Police Station purposes.

One of the reasons why I withhold my approval of the said ordinance is because the City Comptroller has been advised by persons thoroughly competent to appraise the property in question, that the sum of $133,000.00 would be a fair value for the property that the Comptroller is authorized to purchase by this ordinance for the sum of $200,000.00.

I also withhold my approval of this ordinance for the reason that I am advised that the City of Chicago is the owner of real estate at Madison street and the Chicago river, which property the City purchased a few years ago for the sum of over $400,000 for the purpose of erecting thereon a central police station and court building, and I am of the opinion that this matter did not receive at the hands of the Committee on Finance that careful consideration that its importance would seem to demand.

I am also advised that it would take considerable time to remodel the Herald Building in order to make it suitable for police purposes, and that it will be impossible to completely remodel the said building in time for the Police Department to take possession on April 30, 1919, the date when the existing leases on property now being used by the City for police station purposes expire, and that, as a matter of law, the City, by retaining possession of premises now covered by existing leases after April 30, 1919, would make the City liable for an entire year's rent.

It is estimated that it will cost the City at least $50,000 to remodel these premises in order to make them suitable for the purposes for which the City desires to use them, and I have been advised that a firm of architects, whose standing in this community is of the highest, have reported that the cost of remodeling the premises in question will amount to at least $100,000.

I am advised by the Commissioner of Public Works that it will cost the City of Chicago over $42,000 a year to maintain and operate the building as a central police station.

I do not believe it advantageous or wise for the City to undertake to secure a central police station in this way. Already complaints are made that the premises will not answer the purpose of the City, and if this ordinance is permitted to become a law it will, in my opinion, only be a short time until a demand will again be made for a larger central police station.

In view of the fact that it is impossible for the City to take possession of these premises on or before April 30, 1919, the large amount of money which must be spent, the great cost of operating and maintaining said building, and of the fact that it will only prove as a temporary makeshift after all, for which the City of Chicago is paying the sum of nearly $65,000.00 more than the property is reputed to be worth, it is my opinion that arrangements should be made for the City to remain for another year in the premises now occupied by them as police stations and that the Committee on Finance take up immediately the question of the City of Chicago erecting on its own property at Madison street and the Chicago river a central police station and court building.

I, therefore, return the said ordinance without my approval.

Yours very truly,

(Signed) WM. HALE THOMPSON,
Mayor.

Ald. Richert moved to reconsider the vote by which said ordinance, vetoed by His Honor the Mayor, was passed.

The motion prevailed.

Ald. Richert moved to refer said ordinance to the Committee on Finance.

The motion prevailed.

WHEREAS, The provisions of Senate Bill No. 165, now pending in the General Assembly, for an Act "to promote the health, safety and welfare of the people by regulating the light and ventilation, sanitation, fire protection, maintenance, alteration and improvement of dwellings; to define the classes of dwellings affected by the Act, to establish administrative requirements and to establish remedies and fix penalties for the violation thereof", would, if enacted in its present form, take away from the City of Chicago the control over buildings in Chicago used for habitable purposes; and

WHEREAS, The City of Chicago now has ample legal power to regulate buildings in the City of Chicago from the standpoint of the health and safety of persons, and has passed ordinances adequately dealing with the subject-matter, and, in addition, has trained, efficient organizations in the Departments of Building, Health and Fire Prevention for the purpose of enforcing the provisions of said ordinances; and

WHEREAS, The City Council Committee on Buildings and City Hall has appointed a subcommittee to make a study of Senate Bill No. 165, so far as said Bill affects the Chicago situation, and to report its recommendations to the City Council at as early a date as possible; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the City Council of the City of Chicago hereby respectfully requests the General Assembly of the State of Illinois not to take definite action on Senate Bill No. 165 until such time as the Chicago City Council shall have had a reasonable time within which to study said Bill and to present its views thereon to the General Assembly; and, be it further
